TAXING EXCESS SAVINGS

By Westbrook
Pegler

WASHINGTON.—In a recent series of speeches at Chapel Hills, N. C., Secretary Wallace recommended that excess savings be taxed, and said, "I can't help thinking it would have been a healthy thing of this nation, if, during the decade of the '20s, the federal government had taken a higher percentage of the savings for social purposes."

Mr. Wallace referred to large incomes only, and the proposal is hardly as brutal as it sounds, for much of the accumulated savings that he had in mind was lost anyway in the great panic of 1929 and after. Taken by the government for the purposes which he suggested, the money might have done some good, and eased the force of the crash.

And, anyway, savings are taxed even now, so Mr. Wallace's proposal is a mere matter of definition and rate. The problem is only to decide at what point excess sets in and how the excess is to be confiscated for the general good. Perhaps Mr. Wallace would capture all savings in excess.

BUT NOT CHURCHES

But nobody in the government would have the temerity to suggest that accumulations of property and money by religious, charitable and other organizations be taxed.

DEFER COUNTY BUYING TILT

The county's royal battle over L. C. Smith typewriters will not be heard by Superior Judge H. G. Ames until tomorrow.

Originally set for today, the court case has been postponed until tomorrow because attorneys are tied up in other cases now under way in superior court.

The hearing tomorrow is on a writ of mandamus to force County Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon to purchase an L. C. Smith typewriter for County Auditor W. T. Lambert. Fenelon refused to buy that particular make, claiming he was under orders from the board of supervisors to rotate the purchases of such equipment under terms of the purchasing policy adopted by the board.

Fail to Save Ant Poison Victim

County hospital physicians were unable to save the life yesterday of Ralph C. Griffin, San Pedro, who died there after apparently taking ant poison at Huntington Beach. Griffin was found by Mrs. Merle Higbee on her ranch near Huntington Beach and rushed to the hospital by police yesterday afternoon. He had purchased the poison at a Huntington Beach pharmacy two hours before, witnesses said.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU.

BY BOB BURNS

Well, I'm gradually beginnin' to absorb some of this Hollywood etiquette. There's one parlor "lion" that I've kinda taken as a model. When it comes to parlor manners around the ladies, he is a dandy. When he meets people, he always clicks his heels and bows from the waist and I've always thought he was one of the most cultured gentlemen I ever saw. I've been on quite a few parties with him and every time a lady walks in the room where he's sittin' he jumps to his feet and stands until she sits down.

The other day I was ridin' on a bus and this gentleman comes in with a lady I never saw before. There wasn't any vacant seat so I jumped up but the actor beat her to the seat. I turned to him and says "I beg your pardon, brother, I meant that seat for the lady!" He says "Oh, that's all right, old fella, that's my wife!"

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Is Dead at 97

Modern Croesus Gave Away Most Of His Millions

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, sr., the founder of the world's greatest "dollar dynasty" lay still in death today—just 26 months short of his cherished desire to live to be 100. He would have been 98 years old July 8. The aged capitalist died Sunday morning at 4:05

DEATH ENDS ROMANCE

Garden Grove Girl Is Killed in Crash on Way to Yuma

Elizabeth Henderson, 23-year-old Garden Grove girl, was to have been a bride today.

Instead, a Riverside coroner's jury was summoned to find out why she was killed yesterday in an auto crash, en route to Yuma, Ariz., with Harold Aldridge of Balboa, her fiancé.

Police held Johnny Angelo of Sunnymead after the accident, in which Angelo's car collided with Aldridge's automobile near Riverside. The girl was killed instantly and struck the rear of the Aldridge car.

Miss Henderson is survived by her mother, Mrs. Hazel Henderson, two sisters, Lulabelle and Virginia, and a brother, Raymond, all of Garden Grove. Funeral services will be held at the Winigler mortuary chapel here, at a date to be announced later, at a date to be announced later. The inquest is set for 2 p. m. today in Riverside.

SALARY VOTED ROYAL FAMILY

LONDON. (AP)—The house of commons today adopted a government resolution setting up a civil list fund of $2,059,000 annually for the royal family.

A motion to reconsider the list was rejected, 204-102.

Resume Suit Over Child's Custody

Battle of a father and mother to secure possession of a seven-year-old son was resumed in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court today.

James C. Agee, former husband of Ruth Agee Mason, who remarried, charges that his former wife is not fit to take care of the boy, and that she permits him to smoke cigarettes.

Jack Mason, present husband of the mother, was on the witness stand today. He denied that the young boy smokes cigarettes, saying he offered him one to test him out, and the boy refused it.

Died a "Poor Man"

His physician, Dr. Harry L. Merryday, attributed death to sclerotic myocarditis, a hardening of the heart muscles.

The nonagenarian Croesus, who rose from a $4.50-a-week clerk to mastery of a fortune estimated as high as $2,400,000,000, died a comparatively "poor man." A family spokesman said he left a "relatively small, very liquid" estate.

Long ago, since his retirement from active business at the age of 57, he had turned the bulk of his fabulous riches over to his only son, John D. Rockefeller, jr., or spread-eagled it in philanthropic endowments to the far ends of the earth.

Gave Away $30 Million

In his lifetime, out of the golden torrent that gained him the sobriquet of the greatest "money titan" in a list, he had given away the amazing sum of $30,000,000.

Other gifts by his son raised the total to more than $700,000,000. A special train today was to take the elder Rockefeller's body back to his home in Pocantico Hills, N. Y., where a simple private funeral will be held Wednesday. Burial will follow on Thursday in Cleveland, where in 1855 he trudged the streets for six weeks before he landed his first job as a bookkeeper's assistant.

Death came suddenly and unexpectedly to the aged one-time master of millions. No immediate members of his family were present.

Outlived 20 Doctors

Despite his age, he had been in comparatively good health all winter. He had outlived more than 20 physicians who attended him and he was pronounced a "fine physical specimen" for his age when examined last June at his Lakewood, N. J., estate by Dr. Eugene Herben.

The ravages of nearly a century—the first half passed in tumultuous conflict in amassing his colossal fortune from oil, mines, coal, railroads and a myriad other fields—had forced him to curtail his activities. He had forsaken his golf, his church-going, and his whimsical practice of giving away shiny new dimes. But his hope of

Spread Net for Fleeing Students

Santa Ana police had a big order to fill this morning, but didn't get a chance at filling it.

Seventy-five Riverside High school students, reported fleeing from their classes for an impromptu holiday at Balboa, still were unreported in Orange county this afternoon.

Riverside police and school officials sent a frantic teletype this morning, asking police to head them off. Motor Sgt. B. A. Hershey spent some time watching for the speeding students, but reported no luck. The Riverside report gave no reason for the wholesale exodus.

Ask Guardian for Little Actress

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Superior court was asked today to appoint the uncle of 9-year-old Sybil Jason, film actress, as her guardian.

The child earns $250 a week. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Jacobs, live in Capetown, South Africa. For that reason, the court was informed, Harry Jacobson, her closest relative here, should be named to look after her affairs.

Above is the ninety-seventh birthday picture of John D. Rockefeller, sr., made at his home, Golf House, Lakewood, N. J. On that birthday the famous capitalist and philanthropist expressed confidence he would live to be 100. Death yesterday, however, cheated him of that goal. He would not have been 98 until July.

Third Son Is Born To Lindberghs

CLEVELAND. (AP)—The birth of a third son to Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh—on Coronation night, May 12—was announced today by Miss Anne S. Cutter, Mrs. Lindbergh's aunt.

Miss Cutter said her mother, Mrs. Charles L. Cutter of Cleveland, was advised of the birth in a letter from Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother and Mrs. Cutter's daughter.

The letter only stated that a son had been born," Miss Cutter said. "However, we have received subsequent news that both Mrs. Lindbergh and the child are doing nicely."

The baby presumably was born in the rambling English house, "Longbarn," Seven Oaks, Kent, in which the Lindberghs have sought solitude for more than a year. They fled there in December of 1935, before Bruno Richard Hauptmann died in the New Jersey electric chair for the kidnap murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., their first-born.

Secrecy just as deep as that which surrounded the Lindberghs' departure from New York City, all inquiries—some of them from the colonel's best friends in the United States embassy in London—were turned aside. The parents have six weeks from the date of birth in which to register the fact in Kent.

Col. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh returned home April 9 from a 10-week aerial tour of Europe and the East.

On Coronation day—the day when, it now is reported, their third son was born—Colonel Lindbergh was not in Westminster Abbey for the crowning of King George VI and his Scottish queen. He declined an invitation and stayed at home, for reasons obvious now. May 20 was the tenth anniversary of Lindbergh's epochal flight, alone, from New York to Paris.

COUNTY QUIZ SUE HOSPITAL HITS SNAG FOR DEATH

A $50,000 damage suit was filed in superior court today by a mother and father to recompense them for the death of a new-born baby.

Defendants named in the complaint filed were the Santa Ana Valley hospital, Dr. Loman C. Adams, 10 John Does and 10 Jane Does, the latter being designated as nurses, doctors and other persons connected with the hospital.

Plaintiffs in the action are Jack C. Davis and his wife, Sylvia Evelyn Davis.

The complaint charges that on June 18, 1936, the plaintiffs employed Dr. Adams as physician when Mrs. Davis was expecting a baby. On Jan. 2, 1937, it was charged, the plaintiffs engaged a room and bed at the hospital for Mrs. Davis.

On Jan. 4, it was charged, a son was born to Mrs. Davis. It was charged that Mrs. Davis was unattended during the birth of her baby in bed in the surgery ward, and that she was not removed to the maternity ward.

It was charged that "because of the lack of care, and shock and exposure to the new-born baby, the baby died and the mother received injuries of a permanent nature."

BOARD GETS FLOOD DATA TUESDAY

Engineering Plan Does Not Set Up Fund for S. A. Drainage

Engineering data on a $2,500,000 bond election to furnish Orange county's share of the huge $15,000,000 flood control project will be in the hands of the board of supervisors tomorrow.

The Journal learned today from an authoritative source that the official report being drawn up by Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson will be submitted to the board tomorrow.

This report, it was reported, sets up a fund of about $226,000 for supplemental flood control work in the Fullerton area. No definite sum is set up for expenditures on a proposed Santa Ana flood control and drainage project.

Use Tax Money

It had been proposed that about $450,000 be spent on a drainage program for Santa Ana. Residents of the Fullerton area had wanted about $600,000 for their project. Because the bond election will be called for $2,500,000 and not $3,500,000, funds from the bonds for these two projects will be materially reduced. However, the plan is to use part of the $180,000 raised each year by taxation for flood control work for Santa Ana and Fullerton's projects, it was learned.

It is not likely that the board will be ready to call the bond election tomorrow. It more likely will be a week from tomorrow, after the board has had a chance to study the engineering report scheduled to be submitted to them tomorrow. It may be that the board will want to make changes in the report as submitted.

When the supervisors are satisfied with the details of the engineering report, they will adopt a resolution officially accepting the report. They then will call the bond election.

Attorneys Ready

Special flood control attorneys employed by the board, B. Z. McKinnis of Santa Ana and Albert Launer of Fullerton, are ready to act rapidly to check legal phases of the report. They already have spent considerable time at this work.

The first essential in the program is that the county satisfy requirements on the flood control program. The next important phase of the program is for completion of projects below the dams. The supervisors may spend any surplus which may be left, as they direct.

Army engineers plan to spend about $13,000,000 in construction of eight dams in the Orange county flood control program, the main unit of which is the Prado dam on the Santa Ana river.

DeMolay Picnic Attracts 300

Voting to make their outing yesterday an annual affair, 300 members and advisors from De Molay chapters through out Southern California met at Irvine park for a picnic and business meeting.

Plummer Bruns, chairman of the Santa Ana advisory council, delivered the address of welcome to the delegates. The business meeting was held at 10 a. m. in the pavilion, and was followed by lunch. There was dancing from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

Committees whose business it will be to report organization activities at the September meeting were named by the advisory council.

Police now have their own microphone and amplifier, and will broadcast by remote control over KGHX, the county police radio station, with patrol cars calling directly back to the station through short-wave transmitters. Four transmitters already have been installed in police cars.

F. D. R. URGES LABOR LAW

Message to Congress Asks Minimum Wage, Maximum Hours

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for a flexible labor law providing minimum wages, maximum hours and a ban on products of child labor and of employers who exploit unorganized labor.

"All but the hopelessly reactionary," the President said in a special message, "will agree that to conserve our primary resources of manpower, government must have some control over maximum hours, minimum wages, the evil of child labor and the exploitation of unorganized labor."

Legislation Introduced

He did not specify any standards in his long-awaited substitute for the invalidated National Industrial Recovery act. He left this for congress to work out.

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Film producers maintained a hands-off policy today as the bitter jurisdictional quarrel between the striking Federated Motion Picture Artists and the powerful International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees neared a showdown.

While F. M. P. A. pickets resumed their desultory marching in front of major Hollywood studios, the crafts' leaders went before an American Federation of Labor executive committee in Cincinnati to charge the I. A. T. S. E. had "conspired" to break the 25-day strike.

Specifically, the F. M. P. C. alleged that the I. A. T. S. E. tried to entice some of its members away and that in certain instances, the alliance supplied "scab" labor to the studios.

Switch Tampering Trial Date Set

R. G. Griego, former railroad laborer who assertedly opened a Santa Fe switch two weeks ago and then reported the incident in time to prevent a freight train from being wrecked, will face a jury trial Thursday.

A felony charge of tampering with railroad equipment was dismissed in justice court this morning, and Griego demanded a jury trial on a misdemeanor complaint on advice of his attorney, W. M. Burke.

COURT SPLIT OVER THREE DECISIONS

Insurance, State Laws Win 5 to 4; Pensions Ruling Is 7 to 2

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The administration's prized social security legislation, intended to protect workers against another depression, and to provide for them in old age, emerged unscathed today from its constitutional test by the supreme court.

In epochal decisions, the tribunal sustained provisions of the federal measure providing unemployment insurance and old age pensions. It then upheld state unemployment compensation laws to supplement the federal act.

Clean Sweep

This major administration victory gave it a clean sweep in its litigation before the high tribunal this term. Promptly some opponents predicted that it meant defeat for President Roosevelt's program to put "new blood" on the court. Administration supporters, however, refused to concede the fight.

Justice Stone delivered the 5-to-4 opinion upholding the Alabama unemployment compensation act, similar to those enacted by 45 other states and by the District of Columbia. It was a test case of the legislation. Illinois, Missouri and Florida are the only states without such legislation.

Split Decisions

The provisions of the unemployment insurance provisions of the federal act were upheld by a 5-to-4 vote and those granting old age pensions by a 7-to-2 ballot. Both decisions were delivered by Justice Cardozo.

Early this term, the high tribunal sustained by a 4-to-4 vote a similar law enacted by New York. The evenly divided vote was due to the absence of Justice Stone, then ill.

The four justices who dissented to the federal unemployment insurance and the state unemployment compensation decisions were Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler—those generally described by the administration as "conservative." Justices Cardozo delivered the majority opinion in these cases.

Two Dissenters

Only Justices McReynolds and Butler dissented to the old age pension ruling.

In his opinion Justice Stone asserted that the Alabama law "on its face and as applied to appellates, is subject to no constitutional infirmity."

Approximately 27,800,000 workers and 2,700,000 employers are taxed to provide the old age benefits which start in 1942 when the recipient becomes 65.

Cardozo's Opinion

Speaking for himself and six other justices in the ruling on the old age pension section of the security law, Cardozo said:

"The purge of nationwide calamity that began in 1929 has taught us many lessons, not the least is the solidarity of interests that may once have seemed to be divided. . . . The problem is plainly national in area and dimensions. Moreover, laws of the separate states cannot deal with its effectively. Congress, at least, had a basis for this belief."

"States and local governments are often lacking in the resources that are necessary to finance an adequate program of security for the aged."

"This is brought out with a wealth of illustration in recent studies of the problem."

"Apart from the failure of resources, states and local governments are at times reluctant to increase so heavily the burden of taxation to be borne by their residents for fear of placing themselves in a position of economic disadvantage as compared with neighboring competitors. We have seen this in our study of the problem of unemployment compensation."

"A system of old age pensions has special dangers of its own, if

HUSBAND BLAMED BY JURY FOR ACCIDENT IN WHICH WIFE DIED

KING ACCUSED OF FAILING TO STOP

County Highways Devoid Of Fatal Crashes in Week-End Travel

Failure to observe a boulevard stop today was blamed for the traffic death of Mrs. Nona King, 76, Buena Park, killed Friday at Chapman and Dale avenues.

A coroner's jury at the Brown and Wagner home today decided that James M. King, 74, still in a critical condition at the county hospital from injuries incurred in the accident, had failed to make the stop a few seconds before his car was struck by an auto driven by Oscar Anderson, 46, route 1, Garden Grove. Anderson was absolved of blame.

Motorcycle Overtures

Hector Sinclair, 20, Long Beach, and Edith Bates, 18, Compton, were injured yesterday when the motorcycle on which they were riding overturned on Ocean avenue. Miss Bates is in the county hospital suffering with severe abrasions and concussion of the brain.

T. W. Campbell, 38, Doheny Park, was jailed today for moving charges by highway patrol officers last night after an accident near Doheny Park, on the coast highway, in which Campbell incurred slight head injuries. Campbell's car was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Harry Harrington, 45, Long Beach.

Manuel Garcia, 52, route 3, Santa Ana, was treated at the county hospital for injuries to his left leg after a collision at Fairview and Sullivan streets, outside the Santa Ana city limits, Saturday afternoon. Garcia's truck was involved in a collision with a truck driven by Ray Mercado, 1306 West Third street. Mercado incurred injuries to his chest and stomach.

Spinal Injury

Four persons incurred minor injuries Saturday afternoon in a collision near Anaheim, on the 101 highway. Treated at the county hospital were Robert Cruz, 18, Fullerton; John Grion, 19, Fullerton; T. Gonzales, 51, route 4, Santa Ana, and John Alvarez, 24, Fullerton. Cruz still is at the hospital under treatment for injuries to his spine.

Stanley Adrianski, 24, Irvine ranch, was under a hold order at the county hospital after his car overturned near Irvine early yesterday, injuring his hand. Tustin police ordered him held for investigation.

Hits Fire Hydrant

Charles Bowerth, Long Beach, was treated at the Santa Ana Valley hospital for a leg fracture following an accident near San Juan Capistrano Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Minnie Young, route 1, Orange, was bruised Saturday afternoon when her car and an auto driven by Robert Owen, Orange, collided at Shaffer and Palmyra avenues. Mrs. Young's car collided with a fire hydrant after the accident.

Cars driven by Virginia Leroy Adams, route 1, Orange, and Abilene Newton Wright, 1327 East Second street, collided on South McCloy street yesterday, police reported. Neither was injured.

put in force in one state and rejected in another. The existence of such a system is a bait to the needy and dependent elsewhere, encouraging them to migrate and seek a haven of repose. Only a power that is national can serve the interests of all.

Among spectators that crowded the packed courtroom as the decisions were read were Senators Robinson of Arkansas, prominently mentioned to succeed the retiring Justice Van Devanter, and Senator Connally (D., Texas), a foe of the court bill.

Before reaching the old age pension section of the act, Cardozo read the opinion of five majority justices upholding unemployment security phases of the law.

"The statute," Cardozo asserted, "does not call for a surrender by the states of powers essential to their quasi-sovereign existence."

Cardozo 67 Today

It was the 67th birthday of the junior member of the court.

The unemployment insurance provisions taxed employers of more than eight persons to assist in caring for the future jobless and to provide a cushion against economic depression.

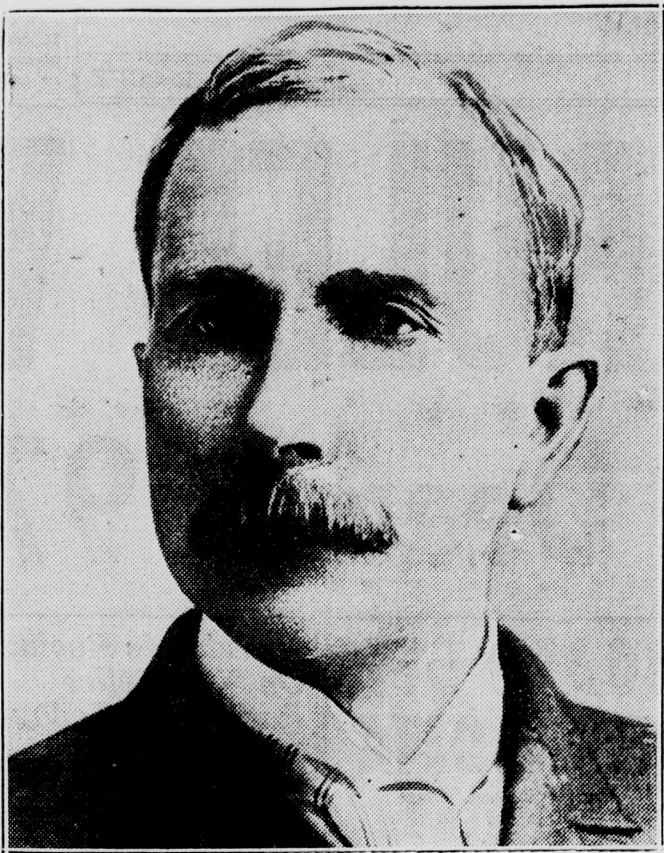

To induce states to adopt programs of their own and carry out the purpose of the federal act, the legislation provided that employers could deduct up to 90 per cent of the federal tax by paying that amount to the state.

Eleven states specified that their own program should be dropped if the federal act were held unconstitutional. Twenty-four provided that the program should be suspended if the governor or the legislature. Ten states and the District of Columbia enacted legislation independent of the federal act.

The measure imposed a tax on employers' payrolls ranging from one per cent in 1936 to 3 per cent in 1937 and thereafter. It was not applicable to agriculture labor, domestic service, seamen and employees of the federal and state governments.

"The social security act," Cardozo said, "is an attempt to find a method by which public agencies

How John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Looked at 50 and 90

MORE ABOUT JOHN D., SR.

becoming a full-fledged centenarian seemed likely to be fulfilled.

Then, last Friday, he became restless. He complained that he could not sleep. His condition was regarded by no means as alarming, however, and he was taken down stairs in an elevator and wheeled out into the garden. For several hours, he basked in the Florida sunshine and appeared refreshed.

"I Am Very Tired"

On Saturday morning he conferred briefly with his senior secretary, Ward Madison.

"I am very tired," he said wistfully.

At noon, John D. Rockefeller, jr., made a routine telephone call from New York and was assured there was no immediate cause for alarm and nothing about his father's condition to warrant a special trip to Florida.

Saturday night he lapsed into a slight coma. The heart that drove him through all the tempestuous years of building an "oil empire," pulsed with a slowly weakening tempo.

At 2 a. m. he roused to murmur something to his valet of 20 years, John H. Yord.

His Last Words

He asked to be raised higher in his bed, and when it was done, he whispered thinly:

"There, that's better."

So far as is known, they were his last words. Apparently he had no realization that the end was near. He closed his eyes, and two hours later, in the hush of Sabbath dawn, he breathed his last.

His death was formally signalled to the outside world at 8:30 a. m., when a youth employed on the estate raised a word American flag to the top of the flagpole at "The Casements" and then lowered it to half staff.

Disposed of Holdings

Beyond the statement that his estate was "relatively small," no immediate information was forthcoming as to how much the one-time multi-millionaire retained for his own personal needs.

He had disposed of most of his vast holdings, however, as early as 1922. In that year, according to a report to congress, he paid a tax of only $12,063.03 on his net income.

Almost a legendary figure to generations which have grown up in the past 30 or 40 years, the "modern Midas" as he was sometimes called, bobbed into public attention with clock-like regularity once a year—on his birthday.

Otherwise, except when his natal anniversary brought forth the familiar pictures of his frail, stoop-shouldered figure with the silvery toupee, the sunken, parchment-like face and deep set, twinkling blue eyes, he lived in quiet seclusion—an almost forgotten anachronism of America's roaring industrial pioneer days.

Cites Decisions

"Who then is coerced through the operation of this statute?" Not the taxpayer. He pays in fulfillment of the mandate of the local legislature. Not the state. Even now she does not offer a suggestion that in passing the unemployment law she was affected by duress.

Cardozo then cited decisions by lower courts in validity of the Alabama unemployment compensation act which supplements the federal legislation. He then added:

"For all that appears she is satisfied with her choice, and would be sorely disappointed if it were not to be annulled. The difficulty with the petitioner's contention is that it confuses motive with coercion."

Justice Sutherland dissented only from the retirement of the unemployment insurance plan that states deposit their reserve funds in the United States treasury.

He said he believed the unemployment insurance tax, and other provisions of the plan were valid, but said the government would invade states' rights in its control of the reserves deposited in the treasury.

Justice Butler's dissent said the tax provision, "if not amounting to coercion in a legal sense, are manifestly designed and intended directly to affect state action in the respects specified."

Although his sight had dimmed in recent years, he retained acute hearing to the end, and it was said that he could "hear a whisper clear across the room."

Despite his advanced years, he kept well informed on current world events, having his secretary read him the newspapers every morning. It was said he followed with keen interest the romance of former King Edward VIII and his American-born bride-to-be, Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

His Precept

The man who earned pennies at 7, dollars at 10 and untold millions at 70, pyramiding his savings into the Standard Oil trust which once controlled three-fourths of the country's petroleum output, turned all his energies in the last half of his life to giving millions away.

"I believe it is every man's religious duty to get all he can honestly, and to give all he can," he said once.

He practiced his precept—to a greater extent, both ways, than any other figure in history.

Born In New York

The son of William Avery Rockefeller, a genial, easy-going farmer and peddler of medicines, with a reputation as a first rate horse trader, John D. Rockefeller was born in 1839 in a farmhouse in Richford Village, Tioga county, in the Finger lake region of upper New York state July 8, 1839.

He was of the fifth generation in descent from Johann Peter Rockefeller, who came with his sons to America from near Cologne on the Rhine in 1720 and settled in New Jersey. The family was originally French, named "Rochefeuille" or "Rocheville," meaning "Rockleaf."

Young John made his first business "deal" at the age of eight when he found a hen turkey which had strayed away from the family farm. The boy "bargained" with his mother so that he could keep the hen's brood of little turkeys in return for finding her. He won her consent, raised the turkeys and sold them—at a neat profit.

First Job at 16

He got his first job at 16. Forty-one years later, after reaping a bonanza of "black gold" from the hills of Pennsylvania, he retired with a fortune valued at hundreds of millions of dollars.

Popular writers of the "muck-raking" era assailed him and the Standard Oil company, charging the crushing out of competition.

Rockefeller adopted a strict policy to "say nothing and saw wood," but ultimately, in 1907, he was hailed into court for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws and in a famous decision, Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis found the Standard Oil company of Indiana guilty on 1462 counts—charging acceptance of rebates on oil shipments.

Landis fixed the penalty at $29,240,000. Rockefeller fought, and won. The supreme court reversed the case. The fine was never paid.

Emerges in 1929

Only twice did Rockefeller emerge from his long retirement. In 1929, after 20 years of obscurity as far as the business world was concerned, he issued two public statements.

One supported his son's battle to direct the affairs of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. The other, issued jointly with his son, was aimed at tempering the hysteria which followed the crash of the stock market. The oil king, then in his ninetieth year, said he did not believe there was anything that warranted the destruction of values. It rallied the market, but only temporarily.

The founder of the Standard Oil company and pioneer of modern American business, Rockefeller once defended his methods in these words:

Defends Methods

"We found ourselves engaged, by reason of over-development of the refining industry, in ruinous competition. Probably 80 or 90 per cent of the refiners of the country were either losing money or conducting their business without a profit.

"My idea was to combine all these for protection. Even in periods of greatest loss, our firm was able to make some profit, yet every weak refiner struggling to do business in a haphazard fashion, selling his products at a loss in a desperate effort to meet pressing obligations, was a source of danger to all others in the business."

"It would be far better, by rescuing these men from their dangerous position, to safeguard ourselves by taking them into our organization on the basis of a fair valuation of their plants and good will."

Under Rockefeller's managerial genius, Standard Oil made its own barrels for 90 cents each, instead of paying manufacturers the then current price of $2.50.

Giving Dimes Was Hobby

So years later, in retirement, the thrifty multi-millionaire was to install his own dairy at his Pocantico Hills estate, because he thought 22 cents a quart was too much to pay for milk.

Famed for his hobby of giving away dimes—he reduced it to nickels during the depression—Rockefeller was a great believer in the adage that "mighty oaks from little acorns grow" and he hoped that his "tokens," as he called them, might be the seeds from which others could grow their own fortunes.

There is no record, however, of any of the 10 cent pieces becoming the nucleus of other riches.

The late Will Rogers reversed the usual process once, walking up to Rockefeller on the Ormond Golf course and remarking it was high time somebody gave the millionaire, who was always giving away dimes, a dime of his own. He did. And Rockefeller accepted it with a chuckle.

Youel Winner in Ping Pong Tilt

Howard Youel was declared winner of the first Y. M. C. A. ping pong tournament Saturday night after a contest that lasted more than four hours.

Youel won over more than 20 other players entered in the meet. Edward Budd won second place, losing to Youel in the finals. Third place was nabbed by Kenneth Nissley.

R. Carson Smith, head of the Y. M. C. A. ping pong tournament committee, is planning another tournament for next week. Details will be announced later.

HOMES UPSET AS SCOUTS ARE LATE

Boys who follow in their fathers' footsteps, go fishing and get home late, upset a number of Orange county parents last night.

Forty county Sea Scouts were expected to return from a week-end cruise to Catalina Island by six o'clock last evening. When they hadn't put in an appearance by 10 o'clock, worried parents began calling Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson, Harbormaster Bouchey and Steve Smith, owner of the tug "Motorite," upon which the Scouts made the trip.

Explanations flew thick and fast when the tired scouts arrived at Balboa at midnight. It all simmered down to the fact that fishing was so good and boating was so much fun they didn't want to come home any sooner.

In contempt for the week-end, the boys were in no danger at any time, it was pointed out, but a yacht trip around the island and a fishing trip used up more time than had been allowed on the schedule. The boys left for the island Saturday morning.

Scouts from Santa Ana, Cypress, Fullerton, Newport and Huntington Beach made the trip.

MISS GROOVER WINS CONTEST

Evelyn Groover, California Highway Patrol entry in the American Legion popularity contest, was awarded first prize of an air trip to Las Vegas, Nev., at the finals held at Valencia ballroom Saturday night.

Miss Groover polled 12,550 votes. Her nearest competitor was Erma Swarts, who had 7650. Third place went to Lola Mae Harmon with 7450 votes.

Miss Groover's trip to Las Vegas will be aboard a Western Air Express Mainliner June 19. Miss Swarts' prize was a special personality award made by June Marlowe of Paramount studios.

Arrest Follows Garage Complaint

Escaping after assertedly looting the cash drawer at the Tustin Garage, Thomas A. Carson, 24, 1117 West Highland street, was in the county jail on burglary charges today following his capture by police.

Police Chief John Stanton of Tustin called Santa Ana police after a youth who gave his name as Joe Peterson, 815 South Broadway, had fled from the garage after being discovered rifling the cash drawer.

MORE ABOUT LABOR LAW

Establishes "Floor" Rate

"Briefly stated, without regard to qualifying detail," Connery said in a statement, "the bill proposes to bar from the channels of interstate commerce the products of child labor and of workers employed for unduly low wages, unduly long hours, or under conditions which violate the rights of labor by the use of strikebreakers or spies."

Connery told newsmen the bill would establish a 40-cent "floor" below which "the hourly wage ought not to fall" and a 35-40 hour work-week "beyond which the working week should not be stretched." The labor board would have broad power to adjust these limitations for individual industries.

"Should Not Be Difficult"

Allowing for a few exceptional trades and permitting longer hours on the payment of time and a half for overtime, the President said a "general maximum working week" should not "be difficult to define."

"Allowing for appropriate qualifications and general classifications by administrative action," he added, "it should also be possible to put some floor below which the wage ought not to fall."

"There should be no difficulty in ruling out the products of children from any fair market."

"And there should also be little dispute when it comes to ruling out of the interstate markets products of employers who deny to their workers the right of self-organization and collective bargaining, whether through the fear of labor spies, the bait of company unions, or the use of strikebreakers."

"Must Curb Abuses"

The abuses disclosed by the investigations of the senate must be promptly curbed."

The President said the proposed federal legislation should be "a stimulus and not a hindrance to station action."

Although a good portion of the goods of American industry move in interstate commerce and will be covered by the legislation recommended, he said there were many purely local pursuits and services which no federal legislation could effectively cover.

"No state is justified," he said, "in sitting idly by and expecting the federal government to meet state responsibility for those labor conditions with which the state may effectively deal without fear of unneighborly competition from sister states."

GIVES ADVICE ON DAHLIA PLANTING

With dahlia planting time here, W. L. Mayhew, dahlia expert at 410 West Second street, gives Journal readers a few cultural suggestions. He writes:

"We are all familiar with the brilliant, gorgeous blooms produced by these plants through the autumn months when most of the other garden flowers have faded and gone."

"A sunny location is preferable, and any good garden soil is suitable."

Tells Procedure

"Spade the ground deeply. Drive stakes from two and one-half to three feet apart, but not less than three feet between the rows for the larger varieties. The miniatures and pompons may be set more closely. Dig a hole eight inches deep beside each stake. Lay the dahlia tuber on its side with the sprout near, but not touching, the stake. Cover with two or three inches of finely mellowed earth and the sprout grows, fill in around it until the depression is filled."

When four pairs of leaves have appeared, or the plant is one foot high, snip out the top to induce branching. At the junction of each of the remaining leaves with the main stem, a new flowering branch will grow. As growth proceeds at the end of each branch, buds will appear, a center bud and two side buds. When large flowers are desired, leave the center bud to grow, pinching out the two side buds.

The two series of buds next below the terminal or tip bud should then be removed to leave the leaves uninjured. The disbudding should give the terminal bud a stem 18 to 24 inches long.

Frequent Irrigation

"As growth progresses, tie the plant to the stake with strips of soft cloth or cord. Dahlias should be watered sparingly until the buds appear, but as the plants contain 90 per cent moisture, they should have a good thorough, soaking irrigation at least once a week. Cultivate as soon as possible after each watering. A mulch of straw or shavings may be used to conserve moisture but as this may harbor soil-bugs or other pests, its value is reduced."

"The smaller varieties of dahlias require no disbudding. Though the tubers range in price from 25 cents to as much as a fancier wishes to pay for rare varieties, it is not necessary to pay more than 50 cents for very dependable named specimens. An inferior dahlia will require as much space, water and care as one upon which all will look with admiration."

Chirrick, 16, Wilmington. She fell down a steep hillside and was treated at the county hospital for head injuries.

Did you see it, Yourself?

AMERICANS LIKE TO SEE THINGS with their own eyes. The first question we ask anyone describing an event of importance is: "Did you see it yourself?" A skeptical race, perhaps, but that is one reason this newspaper prints the extra-fast, world-girdling TELEMAT service of The Associated Press—so you may see the news for yourself.

Telemats take advantage of the swift transmission of pictures by wire—an average size picture is flashed from coast to coast in a few minutes—and enable us to print pictures of the news along with the story. They cost a little more than slower, ordinary pictures, but we believe our readers understand we are trying to produce the best possible newspaper, and appreciate the service.

MERCHANTS PUSH PLAN TO GET PROMOTION FUND

PETITION IS CIRCULATED IN STORES

Quarter of Business License Tax Asked From Council

Merchants of Santa Ana moved officially today to secure a share of the city business license fund for promotional activities.

Circulation of petitions asking the city council to appropriate one-fourth of the annual amount for advertising, including booklets, maps, photographs, for general advertising use and attraction and interesting tourists; local retail surveys, sales and promotions; also for conventions, aviation shows and other activities of value to our businesses.

Promotion Plan
"We believe," the petition said, "a substantial part of the business license taxes should be used for matters which maintain and increase business volume."

"We, the undersigned business people of Santa Ana, petition the city council to allot annually one-fourth of the business license tax for advertising, including booklets, maps, photographs, for general advertising use and attraction and interesting tourists; local retail surveys, sales and promotions; also for conventions, aviation shows and other activities of value to our businesses."

Chamber Plan
"We are familiar with and approve the general plan for use of these funds, advanced by the chamber of commerce and the retail division of the chamber. We request that the administration of these activities be vested in the chamber of commerce and retail division."

One-fourth of the total business license tax would amount to about $10,000 a year, inasmuch as the collections come to about $40,000 a year. Merchants feel that because they pay this entire fund to the city, they should have a voice in how at least part of it is expended.

MEXICANS PURSUE
Man With Knives

Alva Moffitt, Orange, was wondering today why several Mexicans would want to chase him with knives.

Moffitt reported to police early yesterday that he had come upon a party of Mexicans changing a tire near Dyer road. When he stopped because their car was in the center of the road, he said, several of them drew knives and pursued him. Police were unable to locate the Mexicans.

EL RODEO TO SEEK BLUE RIBBON

El Rodeo Riding club tomorrow will start a race for a blue ribbon. Forty to 50 horses, with picked riders, will entrain for San Francisco, where they will represent Orange county at the Golden Gate bridge opening ceremonies May 27.

"We hope to bring home the ribbon," said George Boyd, chairman of arrangements for the trip. "But we're going up against some real riders—mounted groups from Pendleton, Ore., Reno, Nev., Wyoming, Kern county and Mexico City. And then there will be the Northwest Mounted."

New Uniforms
All these will ride in the big bridge ceremonies, at which Orange county's riders will attain much publicity for this section.

Horses will be arranged in the parade in groups arranged by color, with an off-colored horse leading each group. El Rodeo riders will have new uniforms, including white shirts with an orange over the left breast, and orange neckerchiefs. A new banner will be carried, having a white background and orange letters.

Local Horse Show
The group will entrain at 2 p. m. tomorrow and will get under way at 3:45 p. m. A stop will be made at Los Angeles to pick up more horses.

El Rodeo club has voted to give 100 per cent support to the horse show which will be staged here June 5. According to Boyd it will be the finest show of its type ever held in Southern California. Mrs. Marie Timmons, chairman of arrangements for the show, is a charter member of El Rodeo club.

Police Reports

A tall young man who tried to buy a pair of trousers with an assertedly fictitious check was sought by police today, following a report Saturday afternoon from John Ortiz of the Famous Department store, who said the youth fled when employees started to telephone the Newport Dredging company, the name signed to the check. The youth's description tallied with that of a man who passed a $24 bad check several weeks ago on a local shoe store.

Harry Dixon, route 3, Santa Ana, doesn't think much of practical jokes. Someone, he told police, let the air out of the rear tires of his car and piled the seat cushions on top of the auto while he was at a movie yesterday afternoon.

A bicycle owned by Eugene Lawrence, Tustin, was reported stolen from Fourth and Birch streets yesterday afternoon.

Roy S. Armstrong, 58, 515 East Second street, was jailed Saturday afternoon on vagrancy charges after his arrest at Birch Park.

Rudy Flores, 30, 1828 West Fourth street, was jailed last night on charges of carrying a deadly weapon at Fourth and French streets. Pelon's charges may be filed, police said, since the weapon was a "saw" made out of wire, and carrying of clubs is classed in a special section of the penal code as a felony.

After a fight in a downtown cafe last night, Pedro Gonzales, 49, 634 Adams street, was jailed for drunkenness and assault. Witnesses said Gonzales stuck Matilda Villareal, cafe employee, with an ice pick.

Snake Causes Dishwash Machine To Go 'Haywire'

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Marine corps headquarters here received a report recently concerning trouble in an electric dishwasher at Hawthorne, Nev.

The report said the dishwasher suddenly went "haywire" and marines at the post were stumped over its failure to operate.

The depot electrician was summoned and began an investigation. He poked through the motor, and snugly wound around the armature was a large bull snake.

COUNTRY AROUSED
The country has been thoroughly aroused by revelations of the interference of powerful soulless corporations in legislative matters. Their wealth is recognized, and it is deemed wise to discipline that power, and leave the legislative function strictly to the legislature, with a few wise admonitions from Mr. Farley and the President.

It has also been deemed wise to reduce that power by taxing the wealth, and Mr. Wallace now foresees a day when private parties with large income, for their own future good, will be compelled to give up even more out of their excess savings.

It would be unwise, indeed, to propose taxation on properties actually devoted to the purposes specified, but other wealth in vast amount often invites the curiosity of the common taxpayer.

CRUISE FOR DUKE, WALLY ABANDONED

MONTES, France. (AP)—Wallis Warfield and the Duke of Windsor practiced getting married today and then announced they had abandoned any plan for a honeymoon cruise.

Dr. Charles Mercier, the mayor of Montes, spent two hours in rehearsal of the man and woman he will marry June 3.

He came bustling to the chateau and told his attentive listeners where to stand and how to answer the questions he will ask in French.

Abandonment of the cruise was announced by Herman L. Rogers. He gave no reason, but there have been reports the British government has refused to allow a warship for protection of the yacht which Windsor proposed to rent for a cruise that would take him around the coast of Spain.

Rogers also said there would be no flying honeymoon. Mrs. Warfield does not like airplanes.

Another source said the couple now planned to spend the first part of their honeymoon in a villa near Biarritz, going later to the "haunted" Wassereleburg castle in Austria which the duke has rented.

The duke was reported today to have won his plea to the British government that his personal friends be allowed to attend his wedding to Mrs. Wallis Warfield June 3 even though they hold official positions.

Quarters close to the abdicated monarch declared the cabinet was "disposed" to allow his friends to attend, provided it was only "in a private capacity."

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

Rev. Rex Barr is scheduled to address the Orange club No. 1 at its meeting in the Orange club building, 149 South Glassell street, at 7:30 tonight. J. A. Green, club president, will preside. The public will be welcome.

Things not to forget: All you Garden Grove folk, your club is having a pot-luck in the American Legion hall at 6:30 tonight. Santa Ana club No. 2 is having a grab-bag affair tonight at 7:30 in Santa Ana Townsend hall. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week the Orange county Townsend bazar will be staged in Santa Ana Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street.

Look in The Journal of last Saturday on pages 4 and 5 and note the big double page Orange county Townsend bazar ad, and while you are doing so note the merchants and others who made the big ad possible.

Another party whom the writer failed to mention as having been very effective and helpful in the drive for advertisements for the bazar ad was Mrs. Mary Twombly, 516 Cypress street, a member of Santa Ana club No. 7. Mrs. Twombly always has been very helpful to the Townsend cause in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, 121 Cypress street, have returned home from a two weeks' stay at Big Bear. They have been staying in the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Matthews, who reside at 319 East 17th street, Santa Ana. Some time after the first of June the Matthews will return to the mountain resort for another vacation period. The Matthews are all members of Santa Ana club No. 2.

At a meeting of the house committee of the Santa Ana Townsend hall administration board Saturday night, Jacob C. Best was made chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Della Hendershot was named vice-chairman. And while we are talking of the administration Townsend board, the membership is asked to remember that next Wednesday night at 7:30 is the next board meeting. All members are asked to be present at Townsend hall.

Santa Ana club No. 8 will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warton, 1115 Poinsettia street, to enjoy a silver tea. Everyone is invited.

A very interesting and impressive message was delivered by Rev. Russell Tatum, pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon in the Townsend theater on West Fourth street. Accompanying Rev. Tatum to Santa Ana was W. L. Shanks, president of Los Angeles club No. 21, which Mr. Shanks said yesterday has a membership of 1600, the largest in Los Angeles at this time. This club meets regularly in the church.

Grant Henderson, president of Santa Ana club No. 11, presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker and also Rev. George and Mildred Sherry of Costa Mesa, who entertained the audience with violin and piano music. Mrs. Sherry also contributed two very beautiful vocal solos. The meeting was attended by a large number of the Townsends, who heartily applauded both the singing evangelists and Rev. Russell Tatum.

Rev. Tatum told of having made more than 600 Townsend addresses since the movement began, and how firmly he was convinced the Townsend plan is God's plan, and that its ideas can not be dissociated from practical Christianity. Becoming very dynamic, the speaker said, "I am saying to you that Jesus said, 'Feed the hungry, clothe the naked, visit the sick' and so forth and that He meant just what He said." The speaker spoke of the challenge contained in the Townsend

U.S. HOLDS NO CLAIMS ON POLE AREA

Peary Left Flag There But There Is Nothing But Water and Ice

WASHINGTON, (AP)—State department officials said today no question of sovereignty over the area about the North Pole ever has arisen because there is no land there.

For hundreds of miles in every direction from the pole, geographers said, there is nothing but open sea, filled most of the time with large expanses of ice floes.

The fact that Admiral Robert E. Peary of the United States navy is credited with having discovered the pole on April 6, 1909, and planted the American flag on that spot does not mean that the United States lays any claim to the territory, it was said.

American authorities added that regardless of any possible future claim to sovereignty over the area which might arise the flight of Soviet aviators, who established a base there Friday, was a magnificent exploit. They said it should contribute much to the world's scientific knowledge of weather and current conditions in that little known region.

STEFANSSON IS NOT SURPRISED BY EXPLOIT

NEW YORK, (AP)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted Arctic explorer, today lauded the feat of Russian Soviets in landing a huge airplane at the North Pole, but said it did not surprise him.

"The announcement that Professor Otto J. Schmidt had arrived with a party at the North Pole to spend at least a year in that vicinity for scientific study did not surprise anyone who understands Arctic conditions and who has studied the general exploratory and aviation programs of the Soviet Union as it has developed gradually the last few years," Stefansson said.

BYRD LAUDS EXPLOIT OF SOVIET EXPLORERS

BOSTON, (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd today praised the flight of Russian scientists and airmen to the North Pole as a "superb undertaking," but predicted they would "have to move their base periodically in the direction of Alaska."

Byrd, noted Arctic and Antarctic explorer, has followed closely the Soviet government's plans for the flight and has at times been consulted by Russian airmen. "This is a superb undertaking," he said, "and those connected with it deserve the congratulations of the world."

LIBRARIANS ELECT YOSEMITE

plan for men to take a path of advocacy that is not along the usual beaten ways. In this connection he talked of God's search for men into whose life purposes He could infuse the inspiration of His own purposes and plans for humanity. He pointed out that many times this was a lonely way, and not the popular one. He told of the call which God gave to Moses to go down into the land of Egypt and lead the children of Israel out of bondage on the road toward the land of promise—how that from a distant mountain top Moses was privileged to look over into the land of Canaan but not to possess it, and he thought likely, he said, that a similar experience might be that of Doctor Townsend. He spoke of the doctor's age and the possibility of a long hard fight being necessary to get the Townsend plan, and the possibility that Doctor Townsend might not be privileged to enjoy the fruition of victory during his life time.

He said Jesus Christ literally flung himself before the steam roller of public opinion of his time. That His teachings were in conflict with the practices of his day, as Dr. Townsend's are now. He prophesied that the Townsend plan will some day be the law of the land.

Just Call Me Mr. Bernadotte

Prince Charles of Sweden has added his name to the long list of Messrs. Bernadotte—Swedish princes who have renounced their royal rights to marry commoners. He is shown here in Stockholm with Countess Elsa van Rosen, for whom he renounced his title. The king gave permission for the marriage.

Father Denies Home to Baby Girl

Six-week-old Thelma Josephine, of Phoenix, Ariz., has no home because she's a girl. When she was born at the Maricopa county clinic into a family of five boys, the father forbade the mother to bring her home, saying "I'll have only boys in my house." The infant, in the arms of Nurse Beulah Saxman, is being cared for by Thelma Ruff, clinic superintendent.

Mustaches of Small, Neat Variety Are Fad, Because Screen Actors Wear Them

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Mustaches of the small, neat variety are coming into great popularity, a hair stylist declared here, all because several handsome screen actors have adopted them.

The trend toward blotches of hair covering the nudity of male upper lips was viewed with alarm and trepidation by the majority of film beauties whose work compels them to have intimate contact with such appointments. Most of them hated the thought of it. The man who sounded the tocsin was Fred Fredericks, hair stylist with Max Factor, motion picture make-up artist.

Several Stars Wear 'Em "So many male stars have worn mustaches in period pictures recently," he said, "that the tendency for a large number of men to copy them has been very noticeable."

Fredericks mentioned Clark Gable, Jack Oakie, William Powell, and Michael Whalen as among the well-known mustache addicts. He, personally, applauds the trend. "A mustache, properly used, is an effective thing," he explained. "You can mold a man's face with it, bring out his good features, disguise those not so good."

"Perhaps one reason for the return of the mustache to popularity," he added, "is that one thing women can't copy."

Actresses Say "No" With few exceptions, screen actresses deplored the renaissance of such facial adornment. Here are some responses: Marsha Hunt—"How can you get romantic necking a bristle?" Marlene Dietrich—"My early childhood on the continent taught me that mustaches are a handicap." Doris Nolan—"I like shrubbery all right—but in the garden, not on a man's face. Personally, if I had my way there'd be a law against men growing mustaches until they reach the age of 90."

Martha Raye—"If women like mustaches, why did the mustache cup disappear? Recently I made a hill-billy picture and a couple of times I came within a whisker of resigning."

Dorothy Lamour—"Grandpa had one and kissing him was like falling face down on a broom."

Two Like Them And on the pro-mustache side of the fence: Wendy Barrie—"I think a mustache is often very becoming to a man. Of course, there are some men who shouldn't wear them. It's a matter of putting the right mustache on the right face. I'm glad to see them becoming more popular."

Carole Lombard—"Small, neat mustaches are okay." Miss Lombard was formerly married to William Powell who has a small, neat mustache, and is now keeping company with Clark Gable, whose mustache is equally small and neat.

Two Million Is Snapshot Quota

CHICAGO.—More than two million pictures will be taken in Glacier National Park, by the estimated 200,000 persons who will visit the park this year, believe its officials. Always a magnet for artists, writers and camera fans, the park has probably been photographed more than any similar area.

ARMY AIR GAME CHECK BEGINS

MARCH FIELD, (AP)—High-ranking army officers have begun analyzing results of the completed "Pacific air war," mainly impressed, they said, by the deficiencies in personnel and equipment. The three weeks' maneuvers ended Friday.

"We lack fliers and flying machines, not to mention a few more inland bases and a good deal of equipment," said Major-General Frank M. Andrews, commander of the general headquarters air force.

General Andrews said that six of the nine air-force groups in the United States had to be completely skeletonized in order to bring the other three groups to war-time strength for the maneuvers here. "In other words," he explained, "if the United States today were attacked on two different fronts, we couldn't defend both of them. We'd have to make a choice."

He said the games had not been designed as a test for Pacific coast air defenses. "To make such a test," he said, the air forces would have to be co-ordinated with those on land and sea in a general maneuver.

General Andrews said it was "unusual and significant" that not one of the 2925 men who participated in the games was injured. Only four ships were lost.

U.S. TO PAY OLD DEBT TO JAPAN

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt has signed a bill to pay the Japanese government approximately $48,000 in payment of a claim dating from World war days.

Japan's claim arose from its undertaking in 1918 to deport several hundred German and Austrian subjects from China to Australia for internment. The project, the state department told congress, was abandoned, but not until Japan had expended $27,193 yen to alter two ships.

The United States rejected the claim when first presented, but a search of its files convinced the state department it was justified, on the ground the American minister had agreed to take part, along with Japan, Great Britain and France.

Four-Year-Old Saves Playmate

Quick wits and action that would have done credit to an adult, were displayed by Barry Thorp, 4 (left), when Joyce Thompson, 3 (right), tumbled into a park lake from a Denver swimming pier. Barry held Joyce's arm until a fisherman came running and pulled her out.

Uruguay Envoy In Arms Deal

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, (AP)—The government has asked the senate to take action against Raul Benavidez, secretary of the Uruguayan legation in Paris, on charges of having purchased 25,000,000 cartridges and 200 tons of powder for the Spanish government. The government charged Benavidez made the purchases in Norway as if for his own government, and profited substantially.

Convict Ex-Cop Who Slew Five

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—A jury has convicted Martin J. Sullivan, 73-year-old former policeman, of first degree murder and recommended death in the electric chair for the slaying of Mrs. Laura Bacon, social worker. Sullivan was tried only for the slaying of Mrs. Bacon, but he was accused also of killing four other persons—Joseph and Helen Bendis, Mrs. Mary Vukeljic and her son, Milan—last Dec. 17. All the victims were his neighbors in suburban Duquesne.

FIND PAIR WHO DESERTED BABY

DENVER, (AP)—Henry Rancher, 21, and his bride, Mary, 20, confessed they abandoned their 9-day-old son in an automobile in front of Colorado General hospital because "they didn't want a baby and they didn't like children," Captain of Detectives James E. Childers said.

The infant was discovered in the automobile of Dr. J. S. Rosenbloom of the Colorado General hospital staff May 13.

The identity of the parents was discovered by footprints of the baby recorded at a hospital where the child was born May 3. Captain Childers said.

Captain Childers said charges of child abandonment would be filed against the couple. He said Rancher earns $30 weekly as a warehouse employee.

Extortion Note Writer Turns Himself In ST. PAUL, (AP)—Fred W. Elden, former St. Paul high school teacher, was placed on probation for four years by Judge M. M. Joyce in federal district court when he came up for sentence for sending an extortion note to Edward C. Bremer, St. Paul banker, last January.

After sending a note to Bremer demanding $10,000, Elden telephoned U. S. department of justice agents and told them what he had done and where they could find him. He made no attempt to collect the money. Bremer was kidnapped for $200,000 ransom in 1934.

Hollywood

ROBBIN
COONSBy CHARLES RUGGLES
(Guest Columnist for Robbin Coons)

HOLLYWOOD.—Here I am, a newspaper man again, and a bit stiff at times, too. But I think I'm going to surprise those who see this new picture because in it I'm an old, sedate newspaper man, not a fresh young twerp of the type I was in "Gentlemen of the Press," the production in which I made my palpitating bow to moviegoers 10 years ago. In other words, I'm out of character—in "Exclusive"—somewhat definitely. After seven newspaper roles I'm doing something different. To give you an idea, if you care, I'm the father of Frances Farmer, and pretty well along in years. Not only that, but I'm a veteran of about 25 years of pencil-pushing and type-writer-socking.

Newspaper Nerve

As Frances says to me, in the screen play, "You've got enough nerve to make an axe-murderer hold it for a picture, and you'd risk your neck for a two-cent scoop." But let's get on with it: Here's the big news, to me at least: I go dramatic for the first time in my screen career.

Everybody thinks I'm a comic. But lurking back somewhere in the Ruggles make-up is a pronounced tragic streak. (Oh, I know about comedians and Hamlet—don't tell me!)

You think I'm kidding? I played several roles on the stage in which I was a pretty serious guy. I was a bullwhacker once, and I got good notices because I took my role seriously.

Before this picture started, Producer Benjamin Glazer, Director Alexander Hall and I went into conference. We decided it was time I got a role with a lot of raw meat in it. This is it. When two newspapers get into a war and I'm on one of them, I'm bound to be serious. When I have Frances Farmer for a daughter and Fred MacMurray for a prospective son-in-law, I really have something to worry about.

A Drunk With Principles

In the first three reels of the picture I'm just an amiable old soak trying to hold my job. But underneath my sudden exterior I have principles. When my daughter goes to work for a "yellow" rival sheet, I take it seriously. When she writes a story that causes a man's death, I'm pretty sore, to put it mildly. My wife, Fay Holden, and Frances move out of my house. Then, in the end, I get out of my sickbed to go save daughter. And believe it or not, I get bumped off by Lloyd Nolan's gangsters before the end.

There is something about dying in a picture that makes a part absolutely foolproof. So if the author once doesn't disqualify me in the first part of the picture I'm counting on being "tremendous" in the last half.

PAROLE BOARD
HEARS 100

SAN RAFAEL. (AP)—One hundred applications for clemency were considered at the May meeting of the state board of prison terms and paroles.

Paroles were granted two persons convicted in Los Angeles county. Charles E. Wolcott of Pasadena, convicted of manslaughter, was granted a parole effective Sept. 3, 1938. Liberty Hill, former Los Angeles county clerk convicted of grand theft, will be paroled Sept. 30, 1937.

Of the 100 applications, 29 were denied paroles and the right of further application; 30 were granted future date paroles, such as specified for Hill and Wolcott; one was ordered deported; five cases were postponed; and 34 were denied paroles, but with the privilege of making application again; and one immediate parole was granted.

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—A civic committee has approved plans to erect a statue to Father Garcia, Martyred Franciscan friar who left the De Anza expedition in 1775 to found Indian Missions. The statue will be placed in the traffic circle at the North entrance of the city.

DEMAND FOR VALENCIAS
STRONGEstimate by Exchange
Shows 27,800 Cars
To Be Shipped

A continued strong demand for Valencia oranges at prices well above the average of the past six years was reported today by the California Fruit Growers exchange.

The opening market on Valencia was the best for some years, it was stated. Southern California, while suffering a heavy frost damage, estimated a crop of 27,800 cars to be marketed as fresh fruit.

Comparative Crops

This is 16 per cent less than a year ago, 35 per cent less than the bumper crop of two years ago, and six per cent less than three years ago.

The southern volume is heavy enough to justify shippers in the expectation that higher prices will more than offset the lighter volume if only fruit satisfactory to the consumer is put on the market, and that the net money returned will result in a satisfactory season to the growers who saved a sizeable proportion of their crop, the exchange report said.

Central California

About 300 cars of Valencia had been shipped from central California by May 1. It was estimated that not much over 500 cars will be sold in the fresh fruit channels out of an originally-estimated crop of 6000 cars, about 90 per cent of the central state production having been destroyed by frost.

Lemon demand throughout April was strong and steady, the report said, resulting in both volume of sales and prices being above average.

AUTHOR TRAPS
BUNKO ARTIST

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Rupert Hughes, novelist, did a bit of handwriting analyzing and decided he had been victimized by another writer of fiction.

First, he said, he received a letter from a Fred Eberle, who said his wife was ill in Germany and needed aid. He sent $10. Then came a letter signed Leo Zimmerman, asking aid as an indigent with tuberculosis. He responded with $15.

But after comparing the handwriting, Hughes called police, who held Fred W. Eberle, alias Leo Zimmerman, on suspicion of bunko. The officers said they found on him a receipt for a registered letter to Max Schmeling, boxer, at Speculator, N. Y.

'Soul and Body'
Sunday Topic at Science Church

The words of the Psalmist, "Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul," were the golden text in the lesson-sermon on "Soul and Body" on Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon cited Paul's words to the Galatians: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh." For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. . . . But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law. . . . If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit."

The lesson-sermon included also these passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect. . . . Man is harmonious when governed by Soul."

Invitations Out

FLEET BOASTS GREAT BANDS

ABOARD BATTLESHIP PENNSYLVANIA, in Pacific Maneuvers (AP)—Music and mercy are the military missions of the bandmen in the fleet. The 1937 war games of the United States fleet found a new deal in music aboard the two big flagships, Pennsylvania and California.

They have the new "unit" service bands groups of young musicians trained at a navy band school at Washington, enlisted for six years' service as a complete unit and they remain together throughout enlistment.

High school graduates averaging 20 years of age, the bandmen of the Pennsylvania form one of the notable bands of the seas. They went on the midshipmen's cruise to Europe last year, then on the Indianapolis as musicians to the President on his South American visit, and Christmas they came to the fleet flagship.

Real musicians, the 21 players possess $5400 worth of instruments of their own. The bandmaster of the Pennsylvania is Chief Petty Officer F. K. Linn, of Oakland, Calif., with 16 years' service in the navy. The band leader is U. R. Paynter of Topeka, Kan. The band has a repertoire of some 300 selections, the number being limited only by the space allotted on the flagship for carrying band music.

In wartime and maneuvers, the bandmen are stretcher bearers.

New York Bans
Hasty Marriage

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Romances that bloom at midnight and culminate in marriages before dawn will be a thing of the past in New York state after September 1.

On that date a bill recently signed by Governor Lehman, requiring the lapse of 72 hours between issuance of a marriage license and performance of the wedding ceremony, will become effective.

Cultist's Morals
Trial Is June 22

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Mann act trial of John Wuest Hunt, self-styled "John the Revelator," and three former associates in the Father Divine cult, has been set on the federal court calendar for June 22.

Hunt is charged with transporting Delight Jewett, 17-year-old Denver school girl, to Beverly Hills for immoral purposes.

FIND HUMAN EMBRYO IN INFANT

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Surgeons will attempt to remove a half-formed human embryo from the abdominal cavity of a healthy 13-month-old girl in a unique operation here this week.

Dr. Richard D. Dillehunt, dean of the University of Oregon Medical school, in announcing the operation, said he knew of no such surgery having been performed in medical history.

The infant girl was brought to Portland for observation two weeks ago when an abdominal swelling became noticeable. X-ray photographs revealed the embryonic skeleton. It lay between the stomach and the abdominal cavity. Dr. Dillehunt said a portion of the skull and the thigh and shin bones were visible.

Dr. Dillehunt said the phenomenon was caused by a cellular division similar to that resulting in the birth of Siamese twins, except in this case one body was enclosed within the other.

The embryo is a parasitic growth, the doctor said, and is not alive in the sense that an unborn child is alive.

CASE 'EXTRAORDINARY
BUT NOT UNIQUE'

CHICAGO. (AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The Journal of the American Medical Association, said the discovery of a half formed human embryo in the body of a Portland, Ore., infant was "extraordinary but not unique."

"These things have happened every now and then," he said. "Some times the child is attached, as in the case of Siamese Twins, sometimes a portion is outside the body in what are called 'three-legged' babies, and sometimes the embryo is entirely within the infant's body as in the Oregon case."

It Takes Paint And Glass Eyes To Make Fish Look Real On Wall

READY FOR THE TAXIDERMIST

The exciting chase is over and the sailfish brought to gaff. "Boy, he'll look good hanging in the den," is dad's first thought as the family gathers 'round excitedly to watch. But it can't adorn the den until it's paid a visit to the taxidermist's shop.

DEATH MASK

One of the taxidermists first gets the fish's head and body into the plaster paris to cast a guide to the original shape as soon as possible after the catch.

VIVISECTION

Then meat is removed, skin scraped, and a huge fin glued to a board which serves as its "backbone."

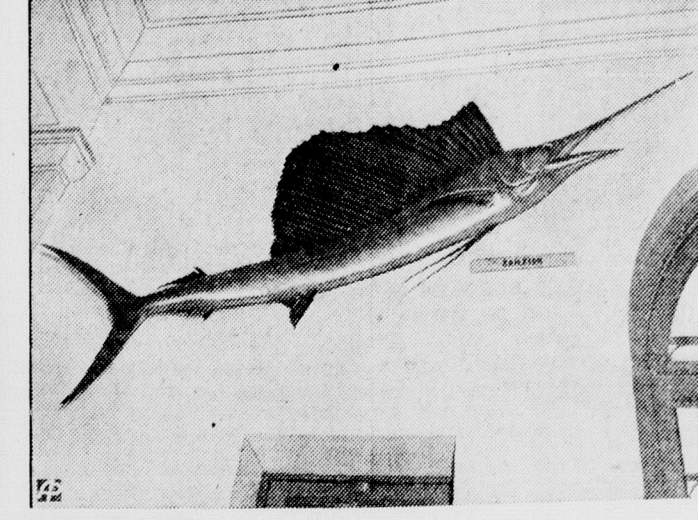

NEW EYES

Next, as carefully as though they were for a human, a pair of artificial eyes of proper size and color are selected.

FINISHING COAT

Nearly through now, an expert applies paint to restore the real life coloring and also act as a preservative.

HOME AT LAST

Dad finally gets his wish when—"frozen" in its original beauty—the prize is hung on the wall of the den—far from its ocean habitat. Now dad can pass out the cigars and regale his guests with confidence—he has conclusive evidence for his fish story!

SANTA ANA VS. CALIFORNIA IN GOLF FINALS

By PAUL WRIGHT

Joe Koegler, who has created a wide circle of friends in his first year at Santa Ana High, was a versatile chap at Washington State university. . . . The Saint coach ran the quarter-mile under 50 seconds, played quarterback in football, forward in basketball, leftfield and pitcher in baseball, and was an accomplished boxer. . . . The Cougars go in for the fight game in a big way, sometimes attracting as high as 5000 to one of their "smokers."

King Kong Kox, Tony Felice and Chief Little Wolf have not displayed their wrestling wares at the O. C. A. C. for many weeks. Reason: The trio has been headlining mat programs in Hawaii.

Orange county did not glean a SINGLE point from the California state prep track-and-field extravaganza at Long Beach Saturday. . . . Quite a step down for the district's 12 high schools, which saw the state crown in 1935 and Santa Ana tie for the honor in '30. . . . The county qualified a few boys, including Capt. Herschel Whitney of the Saints in the mile, but Saturday's field was too formidable.

Floyd (Arky) Vaughan is known as the whistling shortstop of the National League. . . . The Fullerton pride of the Pittsburgh Pirates received the moniker from Woody English of Brooklyn who first noticed Arky whistling to himself while in the field.

Spinning the Sports Wheel: The Baltimore Orioles have offered their manager to Jack Leifelt, but the former pilot of the Los Angeles Angels has declined because he is well satisfied in his present capacity as scout for the Chicago Cubs. . . . When San Diego Padres clubbed Seattle in that 10-3 opener of a double header yesterday, it was the sixth mound victory of the season for Dick Ward. . . . Sacramento opens a three-game series with Los Angeles at Wrigley field tomorrow. . . . Two brilliant speed efforts made sport history over the week-end: Jim Snyder, entry in the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis last Monday, set an amazing record of 130.492 m.p.h. for a single lap (the old mark was 125.139 set by "Wild Bill" Cummings), and Bob Osgood, lanky Michigan hurdler, skinned over the 120-yard high barriers in 14 seconds flat, a tenth of a second faster than the world record, at the annual Big Ten conference championships. . . . Ernie Johnson, "Gold Sox" scout, has been spending the past few weeks around Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. A recent letter states that he has encountered much rain.

Applications Total $350,000 For Louis And Braddock Fight

CHICAGO, (AP)—Tickets for the world's heavyweight boxing contest, June 22 at Comiskey Park between Joe Louis and Champion James J. Braddock will go on sale tomorrow, with Promoter Joe Foley estimating that applications for seats already total $350,000.

Meanwhile, the principals took a day off at their training camps. Braddock, doing his conditioning at Grand Rapids, Mich., planned to hold his training to golf and a little bag-punching while Louis, established at Kenosha, also was scheduled to visit the fairways.

TOLLER JOINS CARPENTERS

Giant Texan Appears in City League Against Elks' Nine Tonight

Games Tonight
7:30—Montgomery Ward vs. M. E. South.
8:30—Elks vs. Carpenters.

Mel Toller, giant southpaw from Abilene, Tex., was released by the Santa Ana Stars today, and immediately acquired by the Carpenters for their City League game with the Elks at the Municipal bowl tonight. Manager Ray (Doc) Smith, whose Stars perform at Anaheim in a "natural" tomorrow night, said he would sign no other hurler to replace Toller. "If Earl Morrill fails to carry the load, we can use Center Fielder Charley Nix in the box. I can get by two or three innings on the mound myself."

Three teams will be fighting for the lead in the Santa Ana City League tonight when Montgomery Ward faces the improved M. E. South nine in the opener, and the once-beaten Carpenters tangle with the Elks in the nightcap.

Walter Jordan, Ward's chucker who won a pitching duel from Armand (Lefty) Hanson last week, will match mound skill with Rittner, M. E. South's latest hurler. Rittner has shown that, with support behind him, he can make the church team a stumbling block for any team.

Another pitchers' battle looms as Joe Rapier of the Elks and Wilmer Swafford of the Carpenters go at it in the second game. Swafford has pitched two tight games, while Rapier has allowed only 13 hits in three games. The two leading hitters of the league, Dominguez of the Elks, and Wiemer of the Carpenters will be fighting for fence-busting honors. There will be no admission.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press
JIM RIPLEY, Giants — His double in ninth scored tying and winning runs to whip Pirates, 6-5.

FRANK HAYES, Athletics — His homer with two on led way to 6-2 win over Browns.

JOE DIMAGGIO, Yankees — Hit homer and single, driving in two runs in 7-3 win over Indians.

MARV OWEN, Tigers — His three singles drove in three runs as Senators were downed, 13-3.

CHARLIE ROOT, Cubs — Handcuffed Bees with five hits and seven strikeouts in 11-1 victory.

DON GUTTERIDGE, Cardinals — Hit homer and double in Y-2 win over Phillies.

RIP RADCLIFF, White Sox — His third single of game scored first run in winning tenth inning rally for 6-4 win over Red Sox.

BUCK JORDAN, Reds — Doubled and single driving in three runs to whip Phillies 6-2.

Athletics Surge to Front in Spite Of Weakest Team Hitting in League

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Connie Mack, who's been pulling rabbits out of hats for years to the astonishment of his American league enemies, is doing it with mirrors now.

After looking over, under and around those amazing Athletics, their batting averages, fielding frolics and a likely looking set of young pitchers, there doesn't appear any answer to what's holding them up there.

As a team, they're hitting last in the league, now that the Yankees have started pounding that apple. They're fielding .963, sixth in the loop. Until this week-end, Wally Moses was the only .300-hitting regular in the lineup. Now Bob Johnson has joined him. Only one other is over .290.

Yet, there they are, up front in the American league driver's seat—a collection of 100 to 1 shots that weren't supposed to bat in the same league with such powerhouses as the Yankees, Tigers and Indians. It just doesn't add up, unless that old magician Mack is weaving his spell again.

There may be some sort of explanation in the fact that they've demonstrated an uncanny ability to make their own breaks. But that certainly doesn't account for the fact that they've won 15 of 24 games to date.

Yesterday, however, they didn't fool around. Frankie Hayes (batting average .255) stepped up to the plate in the third inning with two mates aboard, and slapped one of Oral Hildebrand's slants out of the lot, paying the way for a 6-2 win over the sinking St. Louis Browns, to cash in on Harry Kelley's six-hit pitching job.

FISHING

By OUTDOOR REPORTER (For Western Auto Supply)

Here is the latest information on trout fishing:

In the vicinity of Big Twin lakes high stream and lake fishing is only fair because of the rapid rise of water. However, the water is clear and the weather ideal.

With the exception of one windy day, fishing has been excellent on Convict lake, fish taken ranging from 12 to 21 inches. More new boats are being put on the lake to take care of the increasing demand. Streams are high but still clearing.

The upper Hilton lakes camp will open Wednesday. Water is high but clear in the mornings and murky in the afternoons. Fish are being caught on flies, nymph and sandcreepers. Worms and large spinners with fly oreno are good. Many fish are seen in Hilton creek and the lakes. Horses are now available at the lower camp.

Rock creek is very high. Owens river, Hot creek and Crooked creek are affording good fishing. Bass, sculpin and tom cod. At night a few big white sea bass, weighing up to 40 pounds, have been caught.

Pier fishermen have been awarded with halibut up to 16 pounds, small mackerel, perch, bass, sculpin and tom cod. At night a few big white sea bass, weighing up to 40 pounds, have been caught.

Corbina, yellowfin and surf perch are taken by surf fishermen, sand crabs being best for bait. SAN PEDRO and CARRILLO BEACH.—The "Sunshine II" has been making the trip to Catalina waters the last few days. The fishing seems to be beginning at this very favored spot, good catches of barracuda, rock bass and bonito being made.

The H-10 water taxi boats are now running daily to Catalina, catching barracuda, white sea bass and a few yellowtail. The report that fishing at the Island is improving steadily.

The "Delaware" is now operating daily from Watchman basin, San Pedro, leaving at 7:00 a. m. and making the trip to Catalina waters the last few days. The fishing seems to be beginning at this very favored spot, good catches of barracuda, rock bass and bonito being made.

WHITE, BLAIR NET CHAMPS

Former Miss Marjorie Lauderbach Triumphs In Women's Singles

Thoburn (Toby) White and Mrs. Marjorie (Lauderbach) Blair were installed today as champions of the Santa Ana Tennis club men's and women's singles tournament, completed on the Frances Willard Junior High school courts yesterday.

Walter Blair toppled before the sizzling strokes of the new champion, 6-2, 6-4. He had previously defeated the Santa Ana Junior college champ, Muryl Hallman, in a hot semi-final duel, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Mrs. Gilmore Ward won from Miss Patsy Miller in the only women's semi-final match, 6-1, 6-0. Mrs. Blair then decisively defeated her opponent, 6-4, 7-5, in the payoff match.

Consolation honors were won by Marvin Jacobs in the men's group by out-stroking Julius Loenstein, 6-1, 8-6. Mrs. Kathryn Williams came back to defeat Miss Miller in the women's consolation match by a 6-3, 10-8 score.

Yanks Warm On Trail of Mack's Nine

New York's world champion Yankees remained a percentage shade under Philadelphia's surprising Athletics by walloping Cleveland's Indians, 7-3, in New York yesterday, with George Selkirk scoring his seventh homer as a record crowd of 39,492 looked on.

New York's Giants pulled one out of the fire in their opener at Pittsburgh in topping the Bucs, 6-5. For eight innings Cy Blanton had them baffled. In the ninth, they connected for four runs and the ball game.

Dizzy Dean, making his first start since last week's "battle of St. Louis," gave up 11 hits but was still good enough to top the Phillies 6-2, thereby dropping the Quaker City slugger into the National league cellar, since the Cincinnati Reds whipped Brooklyn 6-2, to pull up to seventh.

Tommy Bridges produced a seven-hitter as Detroit downed Washington 13-3 to take over third place in the American league. The Chicago White Sox won 10 innings before belting the Boston Red Sox, 6-4, with a three-run spurge in the extreme frame.

Charley Root turned in the day's best pitching effort, hand-cuffing the Boston Bees with five outs and seven strikeouts for an 11-1 win for the Chicago Cubs.

PLACENTIA NINE TRIUMPHS, 6-5

With four of their lineup hitting safely twice, Placentia's Merchants outscored the Spanish Broadcasting station nine of Los Angeles, 6-5, in 10 innings at Garden Grove yesterday. Manager Tom Munoz is seeking a new opponent for next Sunday at Martinez field.

N. Y. Boxing Mogul In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Jimmy Johnston, sr., New York boxing mogul, was slated to arrive here

Jack Robertson of Huntington Beach Shoots 68 at Club

Jack Robertson, finalist in the Santa Ana Country club's annual men's championships with Dick Ewert, shot a sensational 68 at the club Saturday, marking the third time 70 has been shattered since Roy Renwick became pro Oct. 1, 1935. W. W. (Bill) Foote and Ted Burkett accomplished the feat a few days ago.

Robertson had six birdies, and was over par on only Nos. 7 and 16.

The Huntington Beach golfer battles Ewert, defending titleholder, for the 1937 crown a week from next Sunday.

500 JAPANESE COMPETE

Garden Grove Trackmen Sweep Two Divisions Before 300 Fans

Japanese athletes — girls and boys — of Garden Grove are superior to those of other parts of the county in track and field.

They proved this fact in competition with 500 Japanese of the county Saturday, when Garden Grove's boys and girls played the part of the imperfect host by sweeping both divisions.

The third annual meet, sponsored by the Japanese association of Orange county, resulted in the following scores:

Boys' division—Garden Grove, 54½; Irvine, 37; Stanton, 35½; Talbert, 24; Costa Mesa, 16; Laguna Beach and Anaheim, 6.

Girls' division—Garden Grove, 39; Irvine, 28; Talbert, 21; Stanton, 9; Costa Mesa, 6; Laguna Beach and Anaheim, 5.

Watanuki of Irvine won the Class A 100-yard dash in 11.9 secs; Fujimoto of Garden Grove, the broad jump at 16 ft. 11½ in. and Watanuki of Irvine, the high jump.

New records were set by Ogata of Garden Grove, who ran the Class B 75-yard dash in 9.4 secs.; by Kato of Talbert in the Class B high jump at 4 ft. 10 in.; and by Akita of Garden Grove in the Class C high jump at 4 ft. 10 in.

Seven schools participated in the annual classic, attended by nearly 300 spectators.

SEALS WIN SIX FROM ANGELS

By The Associated Press
The Mission Reds and Oakland A's remained the Pacific Coast league's best cellar bats today, but had the distinction of having played one of the best and fastest doubleheaders of the 1937 season.

Booted and cuffed around almost all day, the Reds managed to stubbornly cling to their cellar berth by dropping the first game yesterday, 3 to 1. In the second game the A's, who managed to feel what the cellar was like at one time during the series, were limited to two scattered hits by Walter Beck, who snuffed them out, 2 to 0.

Baseball was better than average throughout the league yesterday. San Francisco Seals made it six out of seven games from the Los Angeles Angels by taking both ends of a doubleheader, 7 to 2 and 2 to 1.

Sacramento kept itself very much in the running by shelling last year's champion Portland Beavers, 7 to 1 and 6 to 2. 10½ inches; showed the field how in the discus with a 153 feet 9½ inch, performance that was less than two feet away from the meet record, and bounced 24 feet 4½ inches away from the take-off board for his third victory. At by plane today to oversee training work of his heavyweight protégé, Bob Pastor, who fights Bob Nestell of Los Angeles May 28 in an open air show at Wrigley Field.

Johnston's son, Jimmy, jr. is already here as manager of Pastor.

DR. ROSS' LINKSMEN UPSET VIRGINIA CLUB, 11½-9½

Southern California Playoff Set for San Gabriel Course Next Sunday; Elmer Curry and Homer Robinson Card Birdies; Robertson Has 74

For the third time since 1933, Santa Ana Country club's crack golfing contingent today was preparing for the Southern California association playoffs—with the California Country club of Los Angeles on neutral San Gabriel course next Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Garland C. Ross' local linksmen came through with a sparkling 11½-9½ victory over the powerful Long Beach Virginia fourteen at beautiful Hillcrest yesterday, with Homer Robinson coming in with a birdie on the 18th with the winning point in the final bracket.

Previously, youthful Elmer Curry of the sixth combination assured the Rossesmen of at least a tie, 10½-10½, by sinking a birdie on the 18th green.

Santa Ana got off to an inauspicious start, Virginia leading 4½ to 2½ at the end of the first nine.

Individual scores fairly sparkled, all of Santa Ana's being under 80. Jack Robertson's 74 was second to Ernie Combs of Long Beach, with a 73. Dick Ewert, club champion, carded a 75 for a best ball of 70 with Robertson.

Harold Wright had a 75 and Ray Chapman a 76 for a best ball of 69. The stage is set for sweet revenge next Sunday, but California, with a large membership, again will prove troublesome.

Complete results:
Dick Ewert and Jack Robertson (SA), 2; E. Combs and E. Tholme (V), 1.
Ed Holmes, Jr. and W. W. (Bill) Foote (SA), 3; L. Pulley

and R. Graham (V), 0.
Ted Burkett and A. W. Robinson (SA), 0; Bob McCrystal and N. McCook (V), 3.
Ray Chapman and Harold Wright (V), 3; Ed Jones and H. Hubbard (V), 0.

Earl Wilson and Ben Manker (SA), 1; Frank Parr and Fox Boswell (V), 2.
Elmer Curry and J. K. McDonald (SA), 2; Gene Stanley and L. Hall (V), 1.
Warren Fletcher and Homer Robinson (SA), 1; Frank Parr and Fox Boswell (V), 2.

Score—Santa Ana, 11½; Virginia, 9½.
Mrs. C. V. Doty, J. W. Means and A. B. Watson tied for blind bogey (78) honors at the club yesterday, and seven tied for the same honor (78) Saturday—R. G. Cartwright, Don Harwood, Frank Chapman, Ben Osterman, 87-65; B. W. McClure and Ben Osterman carded low nets of 66.

Using two-thirds of their combined handicaps, men golfers finished with the following scores Saturday: F. J. Knight and Harold Knight, 74-21-53; Jack Robertson and Ray Chapman, 66-8-58; Vern Parker and H. L. Miller, 77-19-68.

WOMAN, GIRL SLAIN IN GEORGIA

Bodies Are Found Near Each Other, Hacked With Heavy Pick

BAINBRIDGE, Ga. (AP)—A double murder mystery confronted authorities here today with discovery of a second hacked and battered body near the spot where a 30-year-old woman farm worker was found slain yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Alex Stephens said the second body was that of Rita Mae Richards, 16-year-old farm girl.

Stephens said the second body was found by officers about 400 feet from the lonely south Georgia pond, where the first body was discovered by two farmers looking for cows. The bodies were found in a secluded, heavily wooded section about four miles from here.

Both women, Stephens said, had been hacked to death with "some sort of a pick." They left home together several days ago.

MARINE BAND TO STAY HOME

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Members who think the marine band has been traveling enough announced the house naval committee had shelved a bill to send the musicians to a Spanish War Veterans' encampment at Columbus, Ohio, in August.

The committee also scuttled another measure which would have let the band appear at a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting at Buffalo, N. Y., starting August 29.

Chairman N. Vinson (D., Ga.), suggested it might be a good idea, for economy reasons, to keep the band in Washington for a while.

RIGHT ANSWERS MAKE CITIZENS

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Six persons became United States citizens recently because they gave what the court termed the "right answer" to Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter's question: "Do you approve of sit-down strikes?"

All the applicants replied in the negative at their hearing. Judge Hunter said their application would have been denied had they answered otherwise.

"The sit-down strike is a form of anarchy and should be punished by law," the judge told them. "The government in granting you citizenship guarantees you the rights of property and you should strive to uphold them."

Turn Coronation Decorations Into Refugee Blankets

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Great Britain's coronation decorations have been turned into warm blankets for 4000 refugee Basque children.

Nearly three-quarters of a mile of decorations, red, blue and white banners of heavy woolen material, were allocated to the Joint Committee for Spanish Relief.

The blankets will be used for the children, refugees from insurgent-besieged Bilbao, who arrived recently.

Tennessee Will Vote on Repeal

Hen Mothers 7 Kittens of Cat That Gads About

MARION, Ohio. (AP)—A Plymouth rock hen belligerently mothered today the seven kittens of a cat which prefers to spend her time gadding about. The kittens were born in a nest in the henhouse of G. E. Johnstone, and the hen immediately took them under her wing. When the cat moved them to Johnstone's back porch, the chicken accompanied them.

She ruffles her feathers and flies at intruders. The mother cat, apparently undisturbed by the situation, comes around only at feeding time.

Al Goes Abroad for First Time

For the first time in their lives, former Governor and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith left New York for a trip abroad. Their tour will include an audience with the Pope and visits to London and Dublin. Here Al waves his famous brown derby just before their ship, the Conte di Savaria, sailed. A host of friends saw them off. They arrived at Naples Saturday.

It's a Three-Point Landing

Perhaps it's really an example of a three-point landing. Anyway, Pit the elephant and Texanite Gene Collins vie with each other in doing a head stand—all for the glory and publicization of the Pan American Exposition, opening at Dallas Texas, June 12.

Ice Break Contest Winner Will Hold On to $75,000

FAIRBANKS, Alaska. (AP)—Merwin E. (Buster) Anderson, the bus driver who won $75,000 in the annual Tanana river ice break guessing contest, tossed his first "fan mail" into a wastebasket today and served notice that "the dames and promoters might just as well save their ink and stamps."

Anyway, the money isn't due for a month. Anderson, 31, said he had not received any proposals of marriage yet—"the dames know me too well."

But the schemers are beginning to shoot letters his way. Several of them with such red-hot bonanzas and deals on the fire that they telegraphed (prepaid, too).

Women Oppose Liquor Stores

GLENDALE. (AP)—Clubwomen headed by Mrs. Mabel McDowell, president of the Glendale W. C. T. U., have asked the city council to oppose the licensing of liquor stores within 500 feet of schools.

MANY INDORSE POPPY SALE

The Buddy Poppy sale May 29 has been indorsed by many groups, it was announced today by Glenn Hendrickson of Ernest Kellogg post, V. F. W., in charge of arrangements for the sale here.

The list of those who have indorsed the sale includes the General Federation of Women's clubs, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Machine Operators of the United States and Canada, the Actors' Equity association and Chorus Equity association, the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America and the New York State Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Robert Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, wrote: "I am so happy to have the opportunity again to indorse the annual Buddy Poppy sale. This is something in which every individual in the United States can have a part and I wish you greater success than ever before."

The New York State Federation of Women's clubs, through its president, Mrs. Clare J. Hoyt, wrote: "I take great pleasure in indorsing the Buddy Poppy sale and I sincerely hope that the proceeds therefrom will be generous."

Francis J. Gorman, international president of the United Textile Workers of America, conveyed his organization's approval of the sale in the following words:

"On previous occasions our organization has endorsed and supported in every possible way your national Buddy Poppy sale."

"I desire to take this opportunity for commending the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the splendid work it is doing in relief activities."

THIEF ENTERS MERKER HOME

Santa Ana's "party burglar," who has taken loot at three other visits during the past 10 days, today had approximately $20 more, following a "call" at the home of Fred Merker, 2115 North Ross street, Saturday night.

Prying the screen off a bedroom window, the burglar ransacked three purses, belonging to Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mrs. Alma Lykke and Mrs. Nora Dunninger, then left the purses on the floor and went out through the window.

Broadway Again Shows Pictures Of Coronation

Coronation pictures will show again at the Broadway theater today and tomorrow, it was announced today by the management. The Broadway showed the spectacular pictures of the coronation of the English king last week for a few days. It was possible to secure them again for the limited showing this week.

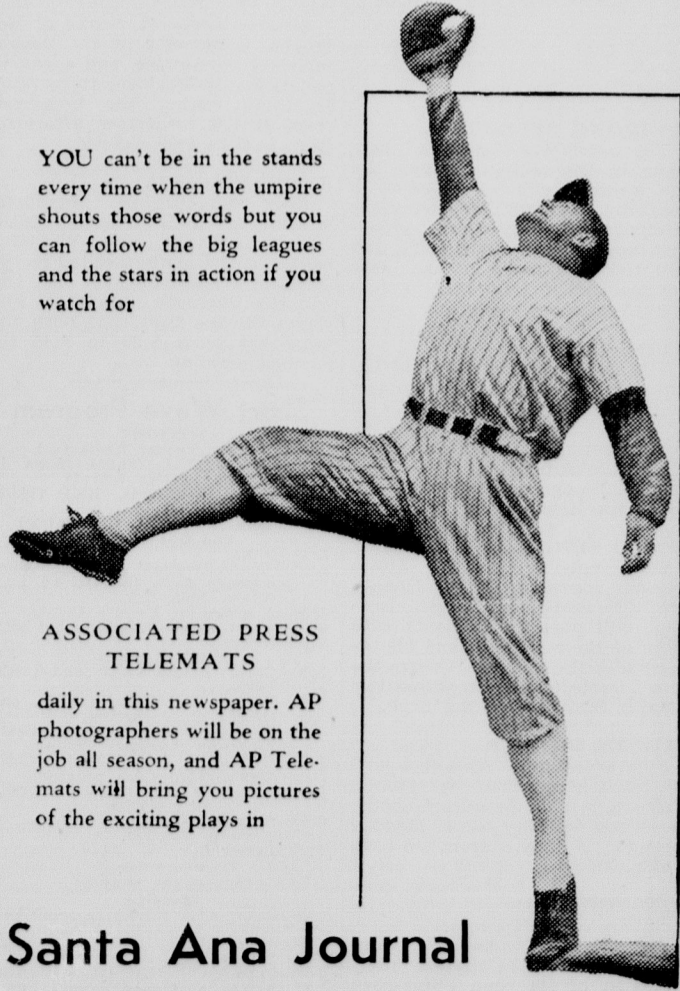

There are 1000 feet of pictures in the coronation scenes showing the great parade and the actual crowning of the king.

Alley Cat Adopts Two Baby Rats to Increase Brood

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Topsy, an alley cat, adopted two baby rats when nature sent her only three kittens, take it from Antonio Santomas, restaurant proprietor.

Santomas called in witnesses when he doubted the testimony of his own eyesight, as he discovered Topsy carrying the brood one by one in her mouth to a warm spot in Santomas' kitchen.

REBELS HIT AT BILBAO 'LINE'

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier. (AP)—Spanish insurgent troops today threatened the important highway junction of Lemona, only a mile from besieged Bilbao's "iron ring" defense line, after a quick thrust through rugged territory southeast of the Biscayan capital.

The capture of Lemona, where the Victoria and Durango highways join, eight miles from Bilbao, would bring Gen. Emilio Mola's insurgents face to face with the Basque fortifications upon which government forces have pinned their last hope of saving Bilbao.

Three villages, Yurre, Dima and Manaria, fell before the insurgent advance "mopping up" the area south of Durango and Amorebieta. The insurgent lines, a communique from Gen. Francisco Franco's headquarters asserted, now parallel the Basque lines in a great semi-circle from Lemona to Basigo de Banquiu on the Bay of Biscay.

The workers' town of Sestao, four and a half miles northwest of the besieged capital, counted 15 dead and more than 100 wounded after an insurgent air-raid Sunday when four planes

Santa Ana's Horse Show May Become Annual Affair

A horse show for Santa Ana every year was in prospect today, as leaders of the local Assistance League unit prepared for the first event, to be held June 5 in the municipal bowl.

The show will be made an annual event if this year's program is successful, leaders suggested, keeping pace with other communities which have annual shows attracting large numbers of spectators and performers. Proceeds from the event will go to endow a children's bed at St. Joseph's hospital.

A street parade and matinee and evening performances are on the schedule for this year's show, according to Mrs. Howard Timmons, general chairman for the Santa Ana unit of the Assistance League of Southern California. Famous prize winning horses from all over the country will be entered for dozens of trophies, prizes and ribbons.

Ticket sales are being conducted from an office at 606 North Main street, in charge of Mrs. H. T. Dunning. Tickets also are on sale

THEATER OPENS CONVENTION

NEW YORK. (AP)—The first convention of all component parts of the American theater opened here today. Helen Hayes, an actress, delivering the opening address, said:

"Never before in the history of the American theater have all the elements that go to make up America's powerful and most promising art gathered together to talk things over."

She described the theater as America's favorite art, and the American theater as "the freest, most unrestricted and most flourishing."

GOVERNOR'S APPROVAL

Authorities Would Be Set
Up in Cities to Push Project

Santa Ana was asked to present a solid front today in support of the new state and national housing program.

Members of the city council, chamber of commerce, builders exchange, general contractor's association, business men's association, labor groups and others are urged to support four state assembly bills dealing with the new housing program.

Assembly bills 1500, 1501, 1573 and 1678 have passed the assembly and senate and now are on the governor's desk for signature. Local organizations were urged by Larry Wheeler, Los Angeles, of the National Emergency Council, to wire Governor Merriam, asking him to sign the bills.

Big Bond Issue
Chester I. Dale, chairman of the Orange county unit of the California Assembly of Democrats, received the word from Wheeler to urge local support of the measures, which tie in with the national Wagner Housing bill. This bill calls for a billion dollar bond issue over a four-year period for loans to state and local housing authorities. It would authorize a $50,000,000 appropriation over the same period for operating subsidies to low-rent housing projects.

Because of the acute housing situation in this city, various organizations are taking considerable interest in the program, it was declared.

A. B. 1500, which was introduced by a group including Assemblyman Clyde Watson of Orange, is an act to establish local housing authorities which would undertake projects to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income.

S. A. Affected.
It creates housing authorities in all cities of the state with populations of more than 15,000. This would include Santa Ana.

A. B. 1510 relates to the exercise of right of eminent domain in the project.

A. B. 1573 is an act to authorize cities, counties and other political subdivisions to take the leasing of projects of the United States of America by furnishing parks, playgrounds, streets and other improvements and facilities for the project, and to authorize the political subdivisions to contract with respect to sums to be paid them for improvements.

A. B. 1678 is an act to provide that property and bonds of housing authorities shall be exempt from taxation, to authorize certain payments in lieu of taxes and assessments, and provide that the housing laws take effect as soon as signed by the governor.

Mantz Loses Plane
Crash Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Paul Mantz has lost his $4000 damage suit growing out of the crash of one of his service planes near San Bernardino in 1934 in which two persons were killed.

Mantz, a technical advisor to Amelia Earhart, called her as a witness in the suit against R. H. Sampson, an attorney. He claimed that George O. Hague, who was killed with Sam Edwards, lawyer, in the accident which also brought injuries to Sampson, piloted the plane in a careless and negligent manner.

Sampson denied Hague was his agent and claimed the plane's motor was not in good condition. A court decision in favor of the defendant was on file today.

To Open Model
Camp for Trailers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Los Angeles county is to be the "laboratory" in which model trailer camps for the state will be developed.

Because the problem of finding a place to camp in a trailer is particularly acute here, A. E. Monteith, chief of the state division of immigration and housing, said, his men are in Los Angeles to work out rules, regulations and model layouts for such camps.

"Los Angeles county will serve as an example of what can be accomplished by careful planning for trailer camps," he said.

New Stratosphere
Flight Planned

BRUSSELS. (AP)—A new flight into the stratosphere is being planned by Prof. Auguste Piccard and his associate, Max Cosyns, it was learned today.

Their balloon is being inflated at Zellick, near Brussels, for a take-off as soon as atmospheric conditions are favorable.

BE STAGED
IN S. A.

Townsend Event Is To Extend Over Three Day Period

Elaborate plans are being made for the big Townsend club bazar to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at Santa Ana Townsend club headquarters, 509 West Fourth street.

District Organizer Jack Walsh announced that the affair would be the biggest and most far-reaching merchandising event that the old age pension groups had undertaken locally since they were organized.

Special decorations and arrangements have been made to handle the crowds expected, and the interior of the hall is prepared in an attractive bazar fashion.

It will be an all-day event for the three dates chosen, opening at 8:30 a. m. and closing at 9:30 p. m., Walsh said.

"We desire especially to thank the progressive and friendly merchants who have made the bazar possible through their cooperation," the executive said.

Special appeal is being made to women not connected with the Townsend organization to take advantage of the occasion, it was stated.

Feature programs and entertainment will be carried on through the three-day event.

Bivouac Staged
By Army Unit

Headquarters company, third battalion, 185th infantry, commanded by First Lieut. Leonard E. Echols, spent Saturday and Sunday at all night bivouac and field maneuver in the vicinity of Spadra. All headquarters companies of the brigade, including the Los Angeles and Pasadena units, were participants in the maneuver which is the first of three to be held preparatory to the annual field training camp at San Luis Obispo.

The camp training this year will be devoted to the fourth army maneuver, which will include the regular army national guard and the organized reserve components of the army of the United States on the west coast.

The company held an all night bivouac at the Orange county rifle range last week-end and qualified two-thirds of the company on the 200-yard D course. Corporal Christensen fired the high score of the day with 234 out of a possible 250.

Mrs. Armour Niece
Seeking Divorce

LONDON. (AP)—Solicitors for Mrs. Raymond Vincent de Trafford, a niece of Mrs. Ogden Armour of Chicago, disclosed today she is seeking a divorce from her husband. Grounds for Mrs. De Trafford's petition and the names of witnesses were not disclosed.

The couple was married in February, 1932, five years after Mrs. De Trafford, then the Countess de Janze, tried to end her own life as well as that of De Janze on the London boat train at Paris. Both were seriously wounded.

The action came just at the opening of the tourist season, coincident with inauguration of the Paris exposition.

Recover Body of
Dyer from Ocean

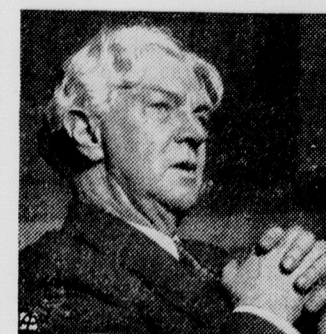

The body of C. W. Dyer, 26, of 460 South Linder street, Pomona, who was drowned at Huntington Beach about a mile and a half below city limits a week ago Sunday, was recovered yesterday by Owen Mattison of Los Angeles. Mr. Dyer had been swimming with Clyde Miller, also of Pomona, who barely escaped a similar fate.

George M. Dyer of 1327 West Twelfth place, Los Angeles, identified the body of his son. The body was removed to Los Angeles.

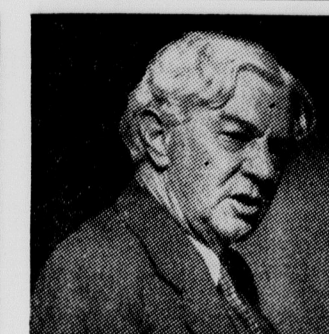

A CANDID TALK

William Heard Kilpatrick is 66 but his eyes are on youth. Nationally famous as professor of philosophy of education in Columbia university, he teaches teachers how to teach America's young. And he decries old-fashioned methods.

"The charge that we don't teach the three R's is simply not true," he says. "Children get as much of that as they would anywhere. In the new school, they don't want to stay home; in the old they stayed home whenever they could."

"The old method, teaching by subject, such as geography or arithmetic, tended to be memorizing. The modern method seeks to teach by projects. It goes on the basis that we learn what we truly live, inwardly and outwardly."

"Democracy demands intelligent self-direction—and this is the school version of it. We cannot let our civilization just grow, Topsy-like. Unless you have the children in on the game, you won't be able to get them to go very far."

KILPATRICK Says Young Moderns
Learn the 3 R's—and Then SomeBUILDING GOES UP IN STATE

Building and construction in California attained in April a new high for the recovery while returns from general business showed activity to be substantially above the corresponding month in 1936, according to the current issue of the Bank of America Business Review.

April permit values from 32 California cities increased 8.7 per cent over the preceding month and were 0.3 per cent above the post-depression peak of October, 1936. Last month's index of prices received by California farmers for 24 principal products registered 136 per cent of its 1910-1915 average, the highest April level since 1930, but five per cent below the mark for February of this year.

Employment and payrolls in California manufacturing industries for April rose 9.4 per cent and 7.1 per cent, respectively, above March figures, scoring the fourth consecutive monthly gain over 1936 levels.

Department store sales and bank deposits last month slipped 6.4 per cent and 4.3 per cent, respectively, below March levels. Comparison of the first four months of 1937 with the corresponding period in 1936, however, showed gains of 11 and 14.8 per cent respectively.

Honor Pioneer
At Birthday Fete

The atmosphere of hospitality and the festive spirit of early California days were revived yesterday for entertainment of pioneers of Orange county and Southern California when they gathered as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Locke of Hollywood at their Yorba ranch to celebrate the nineteenth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Locke's step-father, Juan de la Guerra, also of Hollywood. Mrs. Locke, who was a member of the pioneer Yorba family, Mr. Locke and Mr. De la Guerra, all of whom formerly resided at Yorba, have large ranch holdings there.

More than 150 guests gathered under the arbored barbecue pits and long tables for the barbecue dinner. Costumes of early California were in evidence as the festive spirit continued throughout the evening. The program features also were indicative of the pioneer days.

The long tables were covered with red-checked table linens, and dinner was served in the California style.

Mr. De la Guerra, a member of the Fullerton post of Grand Army of the Republic, is well known. The guests who greeted him Sunday afternoon and evening included all the pioneer families of the southern part of the state.

Four Officers
Killed in India

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Twenty-four-year-old Dorothy Moran returned to her home early today with a story of mistreatment at the hands of four men who kidnapped her from her escort's parked automobile and threatened the latter with a knife.

The escort, Mark Childs, said the men drove up in another machine without lights, while he and Miss Moran were parked on a side street in Montebello. He was unable to see the license number of the quartet's machine. They appeared to be Mexicans, he said.

Says Auto Deaths

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Deaths from automobile accidents may reach 50,000 during 1937, a rise of more than one-third over 1936, Louis H. Pink, New York state superintendent of insurance, forecast today.

Social Security Law 'What
And Why' Is Explained By Board Named to Handle It

Editor's note: Because of the supreme court cases attacking unemployment insurance the social security board undertook today to explain for laymen the "what and why" of the law. The following questions and answers are based on its explanation.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—What is unemployment insurance? A system whereby the man thrown out of work receives aid from the state while seeking a job. Where does the federal government come in?

Congress levied a uniform payroll tax on employers of eight or more persons, with some exceptions such as for farm and domestic help, to encourage enactment of state laws by removing the interstate competition obstacle.

How did this spur the states? Employers can deduct from the federal tax, up to 90 per cent of its amount, what they pay into state insurance funds. If the state has no law, all the tax goes into general treasury funds.

Now 2 per cent. How much are the taxes? Now 2 per cent, the federal tax goes to 3 per cent next year and stays there. State taxes vary.

How many workers are covered? About 18,500,000. Florida, Illinois and Missouri are the only states which have not enacted the insurance law.

If a man loses his job tomorrow, can he collect at once? The security act requires the states not to pay any benefits until two years after its taxes begin.

Can he collect at once? Suppose a man refuses work, can he collect? Benefits cannot be denied any otherwise eligible individual for turning down a job made vacant by a trade dispute, or because the wages and hour are "substantially below" those prevailing in the locality, or because as a condition of being employed, he must resign or refrain from joining a union or promise to join a company union.

Must state funds be pooled to be used for any eligible workers?

States are permitted either to pool their funds or to provide for individual employer accounts where taxes paid by each are available for benefits only to his employees.

To Get Sentence
For Girl Killing

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Accused of fatally stabbing Olga Vallee, 31, seven times, Francisco Cancino, 49, comes up for a sentence of death in superior court here today. Autopsy surgeons told a jury which convicted him last week of first degree murder that they found seven fatal wounds in the body of Cancino's sweetheart. He is accused of breaking down a door and chasing another man from Miss Vallee's home last March 17 and then killing her. His plea was that the stabbing was not premeditated.

Mattern Still Hoping to Race

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Here to complete purchase of a transport plane, Jimmy Mattern said he hopes to enter the Paris Lindbergh memorial transatlantic air derby late this summer.

He attempted a flight around the world several years ago and was forced down in Siberia. Mattern said that the United States department of air commerce had banned the transatlantic derby as a "stunt," but that overtures have been made to the Canadian government to permit the take-off from Montreal.

Bear in L. A. Zoo

Pilots to Be Feted At Barbecue During Air
Show June 20

More than 1900 invitations to Santa Ana's first annual air show June 20 will be sent out this week to licensed pilots throughout the Southland it was announced today by Dale Deckert, chairman of the affair.

Sponsored by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the meet is expected to attract more than $1,000,000 worth of privately owned airplanes to Eddie Martin's airport on South Main street. This will be in addition to army planes that are expected to attend the show. The planes will be guarded by a contingent of national guard men.

There will be a free barbecue lunch for all licensed pilots. They are requested to bring their licenses for identification.

Deckert indicated that this show will be unusual in that the planes will not only be on ground display but that they will perform in the air. This is the first time that demonstrations have ever accompanied an air show in this region.

Seek CLEWS in Mattson Case

SEATTLE. (AP)—The federal bureau of investigation office here has issued a memorandum bulletin asking persons returning to summer homes in this and neighboring states to watch for clues to "the unknown individual" who kidnapped and slew Charles Fletcher Mattson, Tacoma child, last winter.

The boy was kidnapped for ransom the night of Dec. 27 and his nude and battered body found in the snow near Everett, north of here, Jan. 11. The abductor never made a ransom payment "contact."

CONGRATULATIONS
OF ORANGE COUNTY

A ten per cent increase in membership experienced in the past year, and three newly organized clubs—this growth is evidence of the part Orange County 4-H Clubs are playing in this worthwhile organization, so important to the future of California's agriculture.

In California last year, the "just for fun" farmers did a gross business of $306,081. Because the 4-H Club members strive for premium stock, financial returns are usually in the upper brackets, and the net profit from their activities in 1936 was $108,367!

The First National Bank in Santa Ana congratulates the 4-H Clubs of this county on their accomplishments, and wishes them continued progress.

Double Ring Ceremony at Laguna Church Unites Prominent Santa Ana Couple

Pastel Hues Dominate Wedding

Lace Handkerchief of Grandmother Worn By Pretty Bride

Picturesque in every detail was the wedding ceremony which late yesterday joined Miss Marjorie Berkner and Lefter English Holmes in matrimony. The pretty little Community Presbyterian church at Laguna Beach was a bower of fern and flowers, with its altar banks in white blossoms, flanked by palms and tall candelabra, and the bride party was a symphony in springlike pastel colors.

The bride, radiant in her lovely gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace, wore a tiara of lace and orange blossoms, from which fell a long veil. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley, and one exquisite white orchid. Tucked into her costume was a point lace handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

First in the wedding procession was the bride's sister and matron of honor, Mrs. Allan Carstensen, wearing a blue flowered taffeta picture frock with a filmy blue net redingote, and a broad-brimmed hat of blue taffeta. Her bouquet was in Dolly Varden style, of pink rosebuds and other dainty spring flowers.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Fern Berkner and Mrs. Woodrow Barnett, wore similar gowns, the former in primrose yellow, and the latter in pastel green. They wore picture hats and carried quaint colonial bouquets.

Miss Berkner was given in marriage by her father, E. A. Berkner, of 2341 Riverside Drive, Santa Ana. The groom's best man was Charles Nicolai of Bakersfield, and ushers were Thomas Glick of Glendale and Sam Adams of Fullerton. Other groomsmen were Woodrow Barnett and Robert Chapman of Santa Ana.

The beautiful double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Perry F. Schroek of the First Congregational church, and only soft organ music, played by Miss Sada Shields of Laguna Beach, was heard.

Approximately 75 guests were present at the marriage, and later attended a reception by Mr. and Mrs. Berkner at the Hotel Laguna.

The young couple will live at 2411 French street after their northern honeymoon. Mrs. Holmes is a graduate Santa Ana high school and business college and has been employed by the Edison company for the past two years, where she was active on the Edison Women's committee. She is a member of Sigma Tau Psi social society. The bridegroom, a graduate of Delano high school and Stanford University, is also employed by the Edison company, and is a member of the Breakfast club.

GUESTS ENJOY TEA AT McMURRAY HOME

Inspection of her attractive new home on North Flower street was incentive for a pleasant tea party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Milton McMurray, who, with Dr. McMurray, recently moved to Santa Ana to make their home near their daughters, Mrs. Horace Stevens and Mrs. Fred Forgy.

Guests were escorted through the pretty white stucco house to admire the warm-toned living room with its beige and brown color scheme and hospitable fireplace, its blue and blond fruitwood dining room, its comfortable bedrooms opening onto a little private patio, which feature a brick terrace, a garden seat, and tea-table.

Mrs. Forgy came in late in the afternoon to assist her mother in serving tea to Mrs. P. F. Jayne, Mrs. Sherman Stevens, Mrs. E. E. Kellogg, Mrs. W. B. Snow, Mrs. Charles A. Taber, Mrs. John Wehrly, Dr. Mary E. Wright, Mrs. Theodore Winbiger, Mrs. L. G. Swales, and Mrs. Sara J. Haddon, all of whom registered in a new guest book in the smart entrance hall.

TABLE CHIC—New candles come in many odd and interesting shapes. They are sturdy and lend a distinctive decorative note.

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES

Prepared by McCall's Magazine for The Santa Ana Journal

The new candles will change all your ideas about table setting. You just can't help having a novel and fascinating table with them.

They're so new in every way, you almost have to be told they're candles. Some are short and square, like blocks of ice; others are giant size, 5 inches in diameter at the base, or shaped and polished like marble obelisks. Many come with graceful ready-made dripings; actually they are dripless and burn deep under the rim.

Their sturdiness makes them ideal for summer tables. They are so firm they need no candlesticks. They have clever little flat trays instead of gold and silver foil, plain squares or rectangles like shallow cookie tins or with scallops or water lily petals around the edge.

Dozen Attend State Office Long Beach Given Mrs. White Party

Augmenting a series of larger luncheon parties which she has given recently in her attractive home at 1901 Heliotrope drive, Mrs. Edward M. Hall was hostess Saturday to a dozen friends at the Pacific Coast club, Long Beach.

A clever marine motif was built up by the guests who had conspired a mock shower for Mrs. Leland Finley, in anticipation of a summer she will spend at Balboa. A bathing suit, waterwings, rubber shoes and many other bits of paraphernalia, all caricatured, were showered upon her.

High score prizes at contract went to Mrs. Stanley Anderson and Mrs. Joel Ogle.

Other guests were Mrs. Kingsley Tuttle, Mrs. Frank Harrington, Mrs. Rolla Hays, jr., Mrs. Edward Fawcett, Mrs. Havin Harrison, Mrs. Arold Norton, Mrs. Wayne Harrison, Miss Anne Tarter, Mrs. Finley, Mrs. Ogle, and Mrs. Anderson.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED AT PARTY SATURDAY

Miss Doris Redfern, of Fullerton, bride-elect for Mr. Russell Kent of Oakland, was complimented by a group of friends Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Joe E. Johnson of East Ash street, Fullerton, assisted by Mrs. Durward Palmer of Pacific Palisades entertained for her at a pre-nuptial shower at the Johnson home.

Miss Redfern, daughter of A. S. Redfern, vice principal of the Fullerton Union High school, and Mrs. Redfern, will be married June 19 in Fullerton. Her fiancé, Mr. Kent, is son of a former pastor of the Fullerton Methodist church.

Presiding at the tea table where refreshments were served was Mrs. Louis E. Plummer, wife of the superintendent of the Fullerton High school. The table was beautifully decorated with a Chinese mosaic cloth, and centered with spring flowers in pastel shades. The guests presented the honor guests with linens.

Those partaking of the hospitality of the young hostesses were Mrs. Charles Rupp, Mrs. Melvin Curtis, Mrs. Plummer, Miss Genevieve Johnson, Miss Edna Spalding, Miss Nellie Ramsey, Miss Corrine Bush, Mrs. R. W. Marsden, Mrs. William Queale, Mrs. B. Junior Ebell Has Supper Dance Orange Pair Has Home Wedding Clusters of frosted amethyst grapes on gigantic scale hung from the ceiling and on the walls of the Peacock room of the Ebell clubhouse Saturday when Junior Ebell had its annual spring formal dance. Balloons were used to make the effective decorations, and a further effort that was most attractive was the balcony effect given the room by a lattice fence at one side where a section of wall had been removed, and dancers could look out into space over the dimly lighted auditorium of the club.

From half past eleven on, a buffet supper was served by caterers. Plans to serve in the patio were necessarily cancelled because of rain, but an attractive table was set in the board room. Its decoration scheme repeated the color tones of the dancing hall, with violet calla lilies in a white bowl blanketed by white pottery figurines.

Mr. and Mrs. Emrys D. White, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Tessenmann, Mayor and Mrs. F. C. Rowland, and Col. and Mrs. M. B. Wellington had been invited to be in the receiving line, in which were also Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Nalle and Mrs. Quentin Matzen, dance chairman.

Committee heads under Mrs. Matzen were Miss Betty Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Coulson, Miss Mildred Spicer, Mrs. Albert Harvey, Mrs. Russell Sullivan, and Mrs. Perry Davis.

Mrs. Matzen wore a soft frock of white georgette with an orchid; Mrs. Coulson was in navy blue with white pique jacket; Miss Smith in red and white dotted swiss; Miss Spicer in navy blue crepe; Mrs. Sullivan in a dark printed chiffon, and Mrs. Nalle in blue net over a printed crepe.

Others noted were Mrs. Raymond Terry in blue net with pink sash; Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer in black; Mrs. Herbert Strooschein in violet and pink chiffon; Mrs. Alvin Stauffer in a garden print crepe; Mrs. Alber Harvey in turquoise chintz; Mrs. Charles McDaniel in pale blue; Mrs. Ray Tarr in flesh colored crepe; Mrs. Walter Bacon in a printed taffeta, and Miss Lolita Mead in white organza.

Both are graduates of the Orange Union High school, and both attended Santa Ana Junior college. The bride has been bookkeeper in the Orange Savings bank for the past year and a half, and the bridegroom is employed by the Southern California Bell Telephone company.

HELLIS HOME IS SCENE OF BUFFET SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Hellis of Panorama Heights entertained at a buffet supper party Saturday evening complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hellis of Los Angeles, who were week-end guests.

Contract occupied the remainder of the evening, with high score prize going to Mrs. Fred Forgy. A guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hellis were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Forgy, Mrs. A. B. Hellis, Miss Gertrude Hellis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edmund West, and Braden Finch.

Book Review of the Week

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of weekly book reviews of current publications which will appear in the "SON OF HAN" By Richard La Pierre.

By MOLLY HARVEY

(Editor's note: Richard La Pierre is assistant professor of economics at Stanford university, and is considered one of the university's most brilliant young thinkers and writers.)

Richard La Pierre, the author of the Chinese novel, "Son of Han," has been a frequent visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ella June La Pierre and his sister, Mrs. Frederick Elliott, both residents of this city. But that is not the only reason Santa Anans are going to be interested in this book, for it has a most unusual plot, a lyrical style and a fascinating background: the old China of the 19th century, as yet not influenced by the Occident.

On reading the "Son of Han" it seems incredible that its author was neither a native Chinese nor a long time resident of that country. For the descriptions have a hand flavor, and there is an intimate knowledge of certain customs and ceremonial rites. According to La Pierre the inspiration and much of the material for the book was the result of his close association with a group of young Chinese students at Stanford university. For some time he shared bachelor quarters with one of these, and following an ancient Chinese custom became his "Brother by adoption." But in addition to the information these students were able to give him, La Pierre spent many hours in research. In fact, it was six years before he felt his manuscript was ready for the publishers.

The novel deals with a phenomena of Chinese society not generally appreciated by westerners, and that is the veneration of scholars.

ENTERTAINS FOR TRAVELER

Mrs. Isabel Tucker of 317 West Eighth street was hostess recently complimenting Miss Blanche Cartmell, who has just returned from a four-month trip to her former home at Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Guests enjoyed hearing the honor or guest's version of the Ohio river flood this winter, which to her was much more fearsome than the California earthquake.

Those invited to the pleasant affair by Mrs. Tucker were the Misses Percie Head, Lottie Lyman, Pauline Parsons, Ruth Carmell, Alice Zinn, Mary Lockhart, Kate Richards, Mrs. Helen Fry, Mrs. Stella Miller and Mrs. Lucy Bagley.

Luncheon Is Given At Laguna

Mrs. Eleanor Crookshank, who has been inspiration for many delightful parties during the past several weeks, was again an honored guest Saturday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Forgy and Miss Mary Sarley entertained at a bridge luncheon.

The lovely Hotel Laguna was setting for the affair, and the hostesses repeated the smart blue and white color scheme of the Marine room in their personal decorations. Blue bubble bowls filled with fragrant white jasmine and white baby gladioli from the H. J. Forgy gardens centered each table, and tables and prize wrappings were also in blue and white.

Miss Crookshank wore a sheer ensemble of London tan and white as she assisted the hostesses, Miss Sarley in striking black and white, and Miss Forgy in blue.

They awarded flags of Oriental perfume to Mrs. Terry Stephenson, jr. and Mrs. J. Russell Wilson as first and second prizes, and Miss Crookshank was presented with a pottery hors d'oeuvre plate as guest prize.

Those attending the affair were Mrs. Crookshank, Mrs. Ronald Crookshank, Miss Constance Crookshank, Miss Marion Crookshank, Mrs. Herbert Strooschein, Mrs. Leland Auer, Mrs. Henry Hodges, Mrs. Edmund West, Miss Boyd Joplin, Mrs. Bernard Parker, Mrs. James Stephenson, jr., Mrs. Terry Stephenson, jr., Mrs. Russell Wilson, Miss Lolita Mead, Mrs. Albert Harvey, Mrs. Robert Guild, Mrs. Harold Dale, Miss Lucinda Griffith, Miss Helen Kirkland, Miss Ruth Fitz, Mrs. E. F. Bruning, Mrs. Raymond Terry, Mrs. Wilfred Charlton, and Mrs. Wendell Finley.

HOUSEWARMING GIVEN MRS. LACY

Mrs. Thomas Lacy was pleasantly surprised to receive her new home at 1117 South Patton street Friday afternoon when members of the G. G. G. class of the United Brethren church gave her a housewarming party.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent in inspection of the pretty house and in social conversation, with refreshments served late in the day by Mrs. H. C. Nail, Mrs. Everett Jiles, and Mrs. Lola Smevkal.

On behalf of the class, Mrs. Lora G. McNeal presented Mrs. Lacy with a lovely lace tablecloth.

Guests in addition to Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. McNeal were the Mesdames W. I. Jackson, Robert Emerson, J. H. Noble, H. H. Sands, William Tibball, Arthur W. Rams, S. A. Kistner, Mrs. H. A. Colby, H. A. Dinner Party At Sam Nau Home

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nau and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer were joint hosts at a family dinner party yesterday in the Tustin home of the former couple, complimenting Dr. and Mrs. Vern Smith and their daughter, Jean Ellnor, of Los Angeles.

The Smith family plans to sail June 7 on an around the world cruise. Their prospective journey, and the recent one of Mrs. Boyer, made interesting conversation as the family party gathered for dinner at a table decorated with Paul Scarlet roses and white baby gladioli.

Guests of the Naus and the Boyers were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mrs. Henry Nau, Mr. and Mrs. John Melchior, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Nau, Dr. and Mrs. Smith and Miss Smith.

SHRINE OFFICER RETURNS FROM CONCLAVE

Mrs. W. W. Hyde, worthy high priestess of Damasus White Shrine of Santa Ana, returned this week-end from a three weeks' trip in the east. First stop of her journey, which was made by private train from Los Angeles with other Shrine dignitaries, was Tulsa, Okla., to attend a conclave of the Supreme Shrine.

At the close of the session a day was spent in visiting nearby points of interest, among them the Will Rogers home. Mrs. Hyde then accompanied several friends to New Orleans, where they visited for five days. Her return trip to Santa Ana was broken by a visit in El Paso with friends and relatives.

Home Service Your Nerves Can Be Friend or Enemy

Mrs. Hayes tries to repress her nerves, but haggard looks, aging lines are the only result. Expression—not repression—is the cure she needs.

Like most nervous types, she has keener emotions, more creative energy than the average person. But these qualities—which could keep her so young and lovely—she bottles up until they turn to "nerves."

If she would only find a way to express herself, would choose a hobby, such as rhythmic dancing, making hooked rugs, growing unusual flowers! Her nerves would disappear, her old vivacious charm would return.

But Mrs. Hayes protests she has no time for such things! Nonsense! When she conquers her "nerves," carries out a health program, she'll feel so well, so alive, her work will be done in half the time.

Our 32-page booklet by a well-known physician tells you how to overcome "nerves," how to retain youthful health and vitality. Send 10c for your copy of Overcoming "Nerves" and Every-day Health Problems to The Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

About Folks

Dr. and Mrs. Milo K. Tedstrom and their son and daughter, Milo, Jr., and Mary Jean, will return to Santa Ana Monday, following a six weeks sojourn in St. Louis and Chicago. Dr. Tedstrom attended the meeting of the American college of Physicians and Surgeons in St. Louis during April, and since then has been taking post-graduate work in Chicago.

Mrs. James B. Utt, 2140 North Ross street, has been in Sacramento for a two weeks' vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Craig. Mrs. Dayton Alexander and other friends.

Miss Betty Heil, who lately left for a summer in China with classmates, was awarded the Mortar Board, highest honor bestowed by Pomona College, during the past year.

Pupils of Mary Morton Dance Studio will be presented in recital June 8 at the Ebell club auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Utt of Lemon Heights have left for a month's vacation in the northwest, in their specially built trailer. They plan to roam at will through Oregon and Washington.

Mrs. T. Vance, 420 West First street, has had her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. A. V. Coxen and daughter Frances, of Washington, D. C., as houseguests for a week. Mrs. Coxen has been connected with government work in Washington but has come to California to make her home. She has taken a house in Balboa for a month before settling permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCormac, 112 Church street, have had as house guest during the past week Mrs. E. Brown of San Bernardino.

Miss Isabel McCormac of Ontario spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormac.

White Shrine Circle will meet tomorrow for luncheon at 12:30 p. m. at the Rossmore cafe.

A number of local Y. L. I. members drove to San Diego today to attend a dinner meeting of the institute there this evening. Those in the party were Mrs. Ethelbert Johnson, Mrs. Emil Wetzel, Mrs. Robert Sandon, Mrs. William Maag, Mrs. Thomas Glas, Mrs. Urban Engelman, Miss Margaret Young and Mrs. Lillian Giabb.

George Haddon arrived from the Philippines aboard the S. S. President Taft last week, and after spending a day and night with his mother, Mrs. Sara J. Haddon, went on to the Panama Canal Zone.

Harry Blee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blee, 419 West 19th street, was last week elected worthy chaplain of the Occidental college chapter of Alpha Tau Omega, national social fraternity. Blee's post is the second highest in the society. Blee is a senior at Occidental.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Gowdy visited over the week-end with Roy Gowdy, who is a patient in the San Fernando Veterans hospital. Gowdy was formerly with the Orange County Auto Parts, but on account of ill health had to yield his position in order to get physical treatment. He has been in the San Fernando hospital for four months, and is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague have returned from a week's vacation trip to points north along the Pacific coast.

Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger returned yesterday from Eureka, where she attended the state convention of United Spanish War Veterans and their auxiliaries.

Artery Ills Common To Doctors

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.
Coronary sclerosis, angina pectoris, and coronary occlusion are caused by the same disease. They are all due to the presence of degenerative changes in the coronary arteries which supply the heart muscle with arterial blood. Anything that interferes with the blood supply of these muscles causes some weakening of them, resulting in lack of efficiency and finally in pronounced heart weakness. The process may be a part of a general hardening of the arteries, but is often quite local.

Coronary sclerosis is a disease of professional men. Often called "doctor's disease," it is far more prevalent among doctors than in any other profession. It seldom occurs among laboring men and farmers. Twice as many doctors as bankers suffer from it; then comes about an equal list of lawyers and clergymen.

Sclerosis seldom occurs before forty but increases steadily with age. It is essentially a diseased condition due to strain, stress, intensity of work and worry.

The physician spends long years in intensive study and hard work preparing himself for practice, much longer than the business man or lawyer. Also, his work is conducive to worry and anxiety. He is under a great nervous strain during his active practice. Sick babies, diphtheria, scarlet fever, broken bones, surgery and, worst of all, the constant anxiety over the possible death of mother or child in obstetrical cases haunt him. He fears that he may not recognize a dangerous contagious disease before others are exposed or that he may not sense a case of appendicitis till too late. All this, combined with irregular hours and intermittent rest bring on this trouble.

HUSBANDS ARE HONORED AT SECTION PARTY

Mrs. and Mrs. Ronald Sherme of 926 West Pine street entertained members of the evening social section of the Santa Ana Woman's club last week with a card party. Their home was decorated with lovely sweet peas, roses and daisies.

Assisting hostesses with Mrs. Sherme were Mrs. E. M. Weycott, Mrs. R. G. Thomas and Mrs. C. R. Walter. Prizes were given to the husbands, since the party was in their honor. F. A. Martin scored high at contract, and E. M. Weycott, high at auction.

Those attending were the Messrs. and Mesdames F. A. Martin, G. N. Coon, G. V. Linsenbard, C. W. Clarke, George De Rouillac, E. R. Lepper, R. E. Waldron, E. G. Mier, J. L. Watkins, L. G. Holman, R. E. McBurney, R. A. McMahon, Mrs. Margaret Church, Mrs. E. Ahren, Mrs. Blanche Hackleton and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Pagett.

VESTA CREATH WEDS HERE SUNDAY

Attired in a smart navy tailored suit with white accessories, Miss Vesta Creath of Santa Ana became the bride of Judson Moores of Los Angeles yesterday afternoon.

The simple rites were performed at the Santa Ana Wedding Chapel by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss. The pretty bride, wearing a corsage of orchids, was attended by Miss Leta Creath, who wore a canary yellow sports ensemble with a gardenia corsage. She was given in marriage by her cousin, Gerald Creath, and Kenneth Shuman acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Moores left on a

Fish Dishes May Be Piquant!

By JUDITH WILSON
Skillfully seasoned and served with the proper sauce and accompaniments, fish becomes a food for gourmets. But spend a month in the average American home and you'll wonder if the cook knows of any way to prepare fish other than to fry it to a tasteless crisp or bake it.

Have you tried boiling, for instance? Boiled fish is delicious with a properly seasoned sauce. Or serve it cold in its own jelly.

Jellied Salmon
Buy a whole fresh salmon. (It's expensive in Southern California at times, but can be had, and this is a delicious buffet lunch recipe!) Scrape and wash the skin. Wrap a piece of cheesecloth and place in a pan with 3 cups boiling water. Add a small onion, sliced, 1 bay leaf, ¼ cup vinegar and 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer gently, allowing 12 minutes to the pound. Lift out carefully, remove the skin and place on a platter to cool.

Soften 2 envelopes gelatin in ¼ cup cold water. Strain and measure the stock in which the fish was cooked and add enough canned consommé to make 4 cups of liquid. Heat this and add to the gelatin, stirring until thoroughly dissolved. Add water if needed. Pour enough into an oblong pan to make it ½ inch thick. Put this in the refrigerator until nearly firm, place the fish on this and cover with the remaining gelatin. Chill thoroughly, turn out and serve with a chilled cucumber sauce or fluffy mayonnaise. Garnish with parsley and lemon slices.

Wash large ripe tomatoes and cut in half crosswise. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or oil in a skillet, place the tomatoes in this cut side up and sprinkle with the following seasonings: 2 cloves of garlic finely minced, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and some finely minced parsley. Cover and cook slowly for 10 minutes. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve immediately with any kind of a fish course.

For a fish dish that is "different" try stuffing it. Have the fish boned for you at the market. Mix together ½ cup cooked or canned tomatoes, ½ cup cracker crumbs, 1 tablespoon melted butter, salt and pepper to season, and 1 teaspoon grated onion together and spread on side of the boned fish. Cover with the other half and sew the edges together. Pour ¼ cup strained tomatoes over the fish and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes, basting frequently.

Keep a cup of tart, well-seasoned French dressing handy for your broiled or baked fish. Baste frequently with the dressing for a new flavor and piquancy.

northern honeymoon after the ceremony, and will make their home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Moores is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Creath of Santa Ana, and attended Anaheim high school and Fullerton junior college.

GRANDMOTHER'S COAT AGAIN

A black silk faille coat—like her grandmother wore—is chosen by the bride to top her going-away costume. The coat has wide pique revers and collar and huge patch pockets. She shirred faille silk of the natural straw hat is open to show the hair.

Y. W. C. A. GIVES LUNCHEON FOR CITIZENS

Some 40 guests representing various civic organizations were guests at a luncheon party given Friday during the noon hour by the local Y. W. C. A. organization to introduce Miss Myra Smith, prominent Y. W. C. A. national officer. The affair was over promptly at 1:25 p. m. so that guests in business would not be tardy.

Mrs. W. D. Guthrie introduced Miss Smith, who gave a very interesting talk on the Y. W. C. A., dwelling principally on the fact that its vast size makes it thoroughly representative of all classes, and that its unified interests make it a closely knit cross-section even in this time of divergence of opinion and class-consciousness. She particularly stressed its aim of Fellowship.

Assisting in greeting the guests were Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. H. J. Howard, Mrs. Aubrey Glines, Mrs.

TUSTIN WOMAN HOME FROM FAR EAST TRIP

Mrs. C. P. Boyer of Tustin has recently returned from an around-the-world trip of several months' duration. Her party first sailed for the Orient, and after arriving in China, they flew to Ichang on the Yangtze river. From there they took an eight-day boat trip up the river and later continued to Peiping.

From Indo-China the group took a bus to Ankor Wat, where the ancient ruins were most interesting. They continued on to Saigon by bus, touring Siam, on through the Malay states, and to Ceylon. From Colombo they sailed to Clarence, Gustlin, Mrs. George Angne, Mrs. E. D. Froeschle, Mrs. Walter Spicer, Mrs. John Gardner, Miss Katherine Budd, Mrs. John McCoy, Mrs. C. F. Smith, Miss Mabel McFadden, and Miss Mary Howard.

Movie Stars Perfume Hints Given

By JACQUELINE HUNT
Movie stars are always discovering new things about perfume. The latest is contributed by Kay Francis, Hollywood's greatest traveler, who flits casually between New York and Paris whenever the mood suggests and she is not busy working on a picture. Naturally, luggage plays an important part in her life.

"Luggage," she says, "often has a leathery, unfeminine odor, especially when it's new. I've discovered that perfume is absolutely essential if the luggage is to have the daintiness the traveling equipment of a truly smart woman should possess. The best way to accomplish this is to perfume tiny pads of cotton and place them in the linings of one's bags, hat boxes and trunks. The fragrance quickly permeates, inside and out, and one's luggage acquires the same aura of femininity as one's most intimate possessions."

Same of the "drier," faintly exotic but not heavy perfumes are especially good for scenting leather. There is one with a heady, adventurous fragrance that suggests good places. And even if you are not a traveler you will enjoy using it as Kay Francis does—but in your bureau drawers instead of your bags and trunks.

Alice Faye has still another idea about perfume. She thinks you should suit it to your escort as well as to your mood. This is a grand notion, but it may take a bit of study because what makes one man romantic may be annoying to another.

Lily Pons loves perfume and is always trying new kinds to express her different moods. She always prefers blends rather than any single flower odor. She says, "No matter how delighted we find the fragrance of a single flower, our best beloved perfumes are the intermingled bouquets of many essences. Just as a voice to be perfect must have balanced upper, lower and medium registers, so it seems a perfume must have a range of fragrance if it is to be unforgettable. Indeed, to me, song and fragrance are closely allied. Never do I hear a voice, that it does not suggest an equally distinctive perfume."

Mombasa, Kenya, saw the mighty Congo, and witnessed many novel native sights.

One of the trip's highlights was cruising up the Nile, seeing hipopotami and crocodiles along its banks in the daytime, and herds of elephants in the dusky evening.

They continued on to Cairo and Luxor in Egypt where they saw the pyramids, then visited the Holy Land, Babylon and Bagdad. They drove into Persia, where they visited the peacock throne in Teheran and inspected rug-making in Tunistan.

After touring through Antioch and Beirut, they returned to Port Said and sailed for home, stopping only at Naples, Italy.

TIMELY TIPS ON How to Be Charming

"If you have it, you don't need anything else," says Sir James Barrie, speaking of that evanescent thing we call charm.

This Summer let's all be charming! Good taste in dress, perfect grooming, poise . . . these any woman may acquire at the cost of a little time and determination. And in planning our campaign let's not forget some of the surest aids of all—the advertisements in The Journal.

For advertisers are in the conspiracy too! Never have they been so lavish with hints and helps to charm and beauty: style news and fashion firsts . . . excitingly different "hair-dos" and make-ups . . . ideas for summer entertaining . . . short-cuts to leisure hours for the cultivation of mind and manner.

Read the advertisements, diligently, often. Make them your charts to charm. Set your course by them, and sail happily into your port of dreams. Bon voyage, madam!

Mary Stoddard Is the Kind Word Given to Strangers And Friends Carried on Forever?

By MARY STODDARD

Borne on the wings of the morning mail is another chapter in our symposium of "Happiness: What Is It and How Can We Attain It?" This correspondent suggests a sort of golden chain that will capture happiness and hold it. Make one person happy each day, he in turn will make a dozen others happy and so on. Let us have your idea to add to this constructive series on a subject that is a bit different than has been discussed previously, but which is of such vital importance to all of us.

Dear Miss Stoddard: How often a kind word can be directed to us, liberating us from an oppressing trouble.

How often a cutting remark can be directed to us, pitching us into the tempestuous waters of emotional upset.

I think a good rule for each individual to follow would be to choose the kind words instead of the sarcastic and hurtful ones when we have the choice.

One can judge accurately the caliber of another person by what he says, or doesn't say as the occasion demands. The nasty remark is double-bladed. He who makes it is a boor . . . he who has to take it is hurt.

I invented (or did I?) a pretty little theory years ago. I believe that kindness and sympathy ladled out generously are immortal. Now, as you know, immortality is as deep as time itself. How, you may ask, can anything so apparently perishable as a spontaneous burst of generosity, sympathy or kindness last forever?

In spite of the depth of immortality, I believe that when we make one of our fellowmen happy, the impetus of the moment is sufficient to carry its goodness through the ages. It is like a stone thrown into a pond . . . there is a splash followed by large waves that gradually circle away from the axis—

GAINES

Why is it that Monday insists upon arriving, right on time, with no chance to rest up from Sunday?

Because here's this department, with nothing much to talk about, and a column, more or less, to be filled. Told!

However, if you'll just bear with me, we'll dig up something or other. Although I hope you're more excited about reading this than I am about writing it! Anyway, here goes:

Called upon the relative Saturday afternoon. Just a few blocks from the middle of town, she lives, where you'd think people'd be safe from wild animals.

But when I arrived she was puffing and panting and looking into corners with a wild gleam in her eye. It seems she'd just run across a rattlesnake nestled amid the roses or petunias or whatever floral decorations grace the patio. Husky policemen were summoned to dispatch the critter, which they did with the ease of experience.

One of the cops, however, admitted he was afraid of snakes!

Maybe we could talk the city dads into furnishing a pink elephant or a spotted whatsit with every house!

That wouldn't be much more foolish than that bathing suit ordinance. Would it?

Incidentally, I saw why so many residents voted against that law, which would have controlled what young and old folks could wear on the main street. Bunches of beautiful bathing babes strolling up and down the main stem yesterday, wearing nothing more than a fine tan and a warm smile.

That's a fine advertisement for the town, I think, and lots of folks will call again if they drive down the street and see such parades.

I'm going to call again!

This department is going to pick up its wife, child, dog, cat, six chickens and whatever household goods won't fall apart from moving, and trek to Costa Mesa next week.

I was going to speak to Morrie Crawley and the rest of the Mesa chamber of commerce about scarcity of domiciles in that town, but I finally found one.

But the community's not now, and don't think it isn't!

Tomorrow a gang is going fishing at Newport.

And I'm supposed to go along, but don't dare.

It's the Harbor Service club's annual trip, during which they always have lots of fun, and even catch a few fish.

But can you imagine me letting myself get caught a mile or so from land with such guys as Fire Chief Frank Crocker, Harbormaster Tommy Bouchey, Gordon (Soup) Findlay, Paul Palmer and Heinz Kaiser along?

It'd be suicide, no less!

They have a bad habit of heaving newspapermen into the drink, I've heard tell. And, with all the black marks against me, there wouldn't be a chance that I'd survive the ordeal.

Bob Boyd, the yacht-seller, promised to protect me if I'd take a chance and go along, but I'm afraid he had his fingers crossed when he made that statement.

I hope they get lots of fish and that nobody gets seasick, unless it's the harbor master. Wouldn't that make a good story? "Harbormaster goes to sea, is stricken." Heh!

I'd like to go along and take a camera!

Incidentally, I told Frank Rosapaw, Placencia publisher, that I was going to move, and already he's planning a week-end at my house!

Albert Launer has confessed the League of Municipalities is going to meet Thursday night in the Peninsula cafe at Balboa.

I'm not much interested in those meetings any more, since Cal Lester isn't a city councilman any more and Mayor Boice from Orange hasn't a sparring partner for the evenings.

As soon as the mayor gets another councilman who can kick his shins and get away with it, I'm going to show interest in their sessions again!

However, Thursday's affair should prove of interest, if you like to talk big bond issues and flood control and things. There'll probably be quite a bit of what is politely called "discussion" on the subject.

And if you think those councilmen can't argue. Just take a look at your own council, if you're lucky—or unlucky, all in the way one looks at it—enough to have one. You'll discover they can occupy lots of time and wind talking about things. Then multiply that by about 12, and see what happens at a league meeting!

I've talked myself into thinking maybe something'll happen at this meeting, so guess I'll have to go. Don't spare the hostess!

CITY OFFICIALS TO DISCUSS FLOOD CONTROL ELECTION PROGRAM FOR LEAGUE IS OUTLINED

Launer Announces Talks For Monthly Meeting In Bay District

FULLERTON.—Discussion of the proposed $2,500,000 flood control bond election and a talk on government by Lawrence D. Pritchard, will feature a meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities at Balboa Thursday evening.

A member of the county board of supervisors will be present to discuss the flood control situation, Secretary Albert Launer of Fullerton announced today.

Pritchard, faculty member of the school of government at University of Southern California, will talk on "Is Being a Public Official Worth It?"

Senator Harry Westover, Santa Ana, probably will attend the session and report upon legislative activities, Launer said. The meeting will open with a dinner at 6:45 p. m. in the Peninsula Cafe. Mayor Fred Rowland, Santa Ana, president of the league, has requested that all members arrive on time, as he hopes to conclude the program by 10 p. m.

STUDENTS EDIT YEARBOOK

ORANGE.—The Orange and White, Orange High school annual yearbook, will be ready for distribution Monday, and has for its theme this year, "Speech Arts," dedicated to the language department of the school.

Illustrations are by Miss Frances Heil's art students and portray the architecture of the various countries to which the book is dedicated. It is the largest annual published by the school since 1931.

J. W. Cummings, who supervises the publication each year, said: "Miss Mary Spennetta is editor; Thomas Powell, assistant editor; David Welsh, advertising manager; Grant Keller, business manager; Melba Estes, girls' sports editor; Howard Moore, boys' sports editor; Evelyn Myracle, junior class editor; Mary Cagle, sophomore class editor; Mary Beth Newcom, freshman editor; George Andrich, art; Bill McNeill, jokes and snapshots; and Wilbur Kamrath, organization editor."

CLUB WILL MEET IN SUMMER

BARBER CITY.—At a recent meeting of the Woman's club, members voted to continue their club activities through the summer months. It was also decided to change the day of meeting from the first and third Wednesday to the first and third Tuesday of the month.

During the summer business routine will be taken care of on the first Tuesday, and the third Tuesday will be given over to social affairs.

Mrs. Margaret Brindie, newly elected president, was in charge of the Tuesday meeting and Mrs. Wilmona Davey was hostess. Present were Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mrs. Herbert Tyler, Mrs. E. B. Finley, Mrs. Elsie Robinson, Mrs. Anna Olsen, Mrs. Ben Upham and Mrs. Ray Finley.

Club guests included Mrs. C. C. Murphy, Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain, Mrs. Angus Davis, Mrs. James, Mrs. Walter Pritchett and Mrs. E. L. Flagg.

ORANGE SCHOOL PLAY GIVEN

ORANGE.—The second public production of the Orange High school drama class, "Skidding," was given Friday night in the auditorium.

The play was directed by Miss Shirley Haynes, drama teacher, and dealt with a political situation. Especially good in their parts were Marion Disbennett, as the judge; Maxine Wells, as Marion Hardy, his daughter; Wayne Price, as Wayne Trenton, the romantic interest of the judge's daughter. Other characters were portrayed by Melba Talmage, Barbara Pease, Lynn Montgomery, George Andrich, Beatrice Lewellen, Ralph Carnes and Helen Talbert.

West to Talk To Brea Juniors

BREA.—Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach is the guest speaker at the meeting of the Brea Junior chamber of commerce at the New Sherman hotel tonight.

Gerard Bruch is program chairman for the meeting, and announces that discussion will be in connection with the water bond election to be held soon. The public is invited.

LEAVE FOR HONOLULU
YORBA LINDA.—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hargrave, who have been visiting Hargrave's mother, Mrs. Della Hargrave for several days, left for Honolulu Friday.

Thirty farm families were driven from their homes near Manteca, Calif., and thousands of acres of rich farming land were inundated when high water broke levees along the Stanislaus and San Joaquin rivers near where they merge. This aerial picture shows a portion of the flooded area.

CLASS HONORS TEACHER AT IRVINE PARK PICNIC

WESTMINSTER.—Members of the sixth grade of the Westminster school entertained at a wieners bake in Irvine park Friday night in honor of their teacher, Mrs. Irene Erdman and several invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Orion Bebermeyer, Billy Max Bebermeyer, Mrs. Philip Black, Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mrs. R. V. Phillips, Mrs. J. F. Beaver, Mrs. H. Tanabe, Miss Nellie French and Mrs. E. A. Holly were special guests.

CLUB SECTION PUPILS FETED BY P.T.A.

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. Allen Goddard was chosen to succeed Mrs. A. P. Kearns as leader of the Booklovers' section of the Woman's Civic club at a meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. J. T. Luchsing on Brookhurst road.

Mrs. A. C. Robbins was re-elected vice chairman and Mrs. R. H. Williams secretary-treasurer.

Guest speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Wesley Visel of Anaheim who reviewed nine of Noel Coward's plays. A picnic at the Anaheim park for the last meeting of the year, June 15, was planned and Mesdames E. G. Maier, E. A. Wisner and W. O. Broady named as the committee on arrangements.

Concluding the program, Mrs. W. V. Brady as co-hostess assisted in serving refreshments. Guests were Mrs. Visel and her mother, Mrs. E. C. Rundstrom, of Anaheim, and Mrs. Glenn W. Short. Members attending were Mesdames P. S. Virgin, A. C. Robbins, Harry Berman, Sr., E. F. Hadley, C. R. George, W. O. Broady, B. A. Lamer, G. R. Reymann, E. G. Maier, E. E. Nichols, H. Stennett and J. C. Farnsworth.

BREA HI PLAY DATE IS SET

BREA.—All seniors of the Brea-Olind Union High school are participants in the class play to be presented Friday night in the school auditorium. Tickets went on sale today for the play.

The class is to present "Crashing Society." Gordon Baker and Rema Neal will play the leading roles as Mr. and Mrs. Dunnington. The part of "Scrupulous-Scrupulous" a butler, will be played by Doyle Robertson; other characters are to be played by Martha Osborne, Clara Mae Eardley, Dick Barnes, Betty Carley, Kathryn Albee, Frances Smith, Eldon Ginn, Virginia Blancher, Bruce Gordon, Lucy Crenshaw, and Betty McGuire.

Buena Park Poppy Leaders Named

BUENA PARK.—Mrs. Zoe Jackson will direct the Buena Park unit of the American Legion auxiliary Poppy Day sale on May 29. The flowers, crepe replicas of the famous poppies of France and Flanders have been faithfully reproduced by the disabled veterans at the hospital in Sawtelle.

"Each flower has been made with pains and care by some disabled World War veteran," Mrs. Jackson explained. "They are to represent, as closely as possible, the little red flowers that these men saw on the battlefields of France where so many of their comrades still lie. Their significance comes from the sacrifices of those thousands of brave Americans who died in this country's service."

VISITED IN ESCONDIDO
YORBA LINDA.—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Anderson were Thursday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stolle of Escondido. Mr. and Mrs. Stolle are former residents of Yorba Linda.

LEAVES FOR BEACH
YORBA LINDA.—Miss Genevieve Townsend left Friday for Newport Beach to spend the week-end with a group of fellow students from Whittier College.

ORANGE.—George Washington Prokehausen, 61, died suddenly at his home, 652 East Culver street, Sunday morning. He had lived in Orange for four years and in California for five years.

Funeral arrangements in charge of the Shannon Funeral home, are incomplete, awaiting arrival of a daughter from New York.

YORBA LINDA.—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. G. Small of Los Angeles were guests Thursday of Mr. Small's brother, James A. Small.

G. G. GRANGE MEETING IS ANNOUNCED

GARDEN GROVE.—An open meeting June 3 with a pot-luck supper at 7 o'clock was planned by the Garden Grove Grange, meeting late last week.

A memorial day program will follow the supper with all other Grange organizations of the county to be invited to contribute one number.

Announcement was made that the home economics section of the county Pomona Grange will visit the Susanna Bixby Bryant botanical gardens in Santa Ana canyon May 28, with those attending to meet at the plaza in Orange at 9:30 a. m.

H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, was guest speaker, telling in detail of accomplishments of the recent Farmers' convention at Santa Ana. Refreshments were served during the social hour following the meeting.

CHOIR PROGRAM DRAWS CROWD

FULLERTON.—An unusually large and enthusiastic audience filled to capacity the Fullerton Union High school auditorium Friday night for the annual musical program offered by the a capella choir of the District Junior college.

As guest artists, the choir presented the Hungarian violinist, Dudi de Kerekjarto, who was accompanied by Marka Kerekjarto, and Wesley Morgan, organist, who offered the preludes and the offertory.

Additions to the regular choir numbers were three tableaux, presented under the staging of which Earl S. Dyringer is supervisor, and with the assistance of Mrs. Esther Litchfield, drama teacher. One tableau was presented by Virginia Turpin for the number "Beautiful Savior" one by Bob Wentz for "The Good Shepherd" number, which was written by the choir director, Benjamin Edwards, and a third for the closing number, "The Lord's Prayer," also presented by Wentz.

Those who took solo or special parts in the choir numbers were Ellen and Katherine Collins, who also sang "Deh! conte, conte li preudi" by Bellini; Stratton Phillips and Wanda Thompson, soloists, Bruce Mackay, narrator, and Barbara and Louise Benson and the Misses Collins, in a quartet group.

GARDEN PARTY PROGRAM TOLD

ORANGE.—The program of the mother and daughter dessert garden party to be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Presbyterian church is under the direction of Mrs. Earle G. Smith, and will include a play, "Mother's Cooking," it was announced today.

Taking part will be Betty Doncaster, Melba Estes, Maxine Huber, Emily Joost and Eldene Watson. Mrs. Ray Price is director. Other committee heads are Mrs. Fred Hobbs, decorations; refreshments, Mrs. George Franzen, and Mrs. Nellie Crist and Miss Luella Outright.

Grove Boy Has Birthday Party

GARDEN GROVE.—Leonard Schneider was 4 years old Saturday and to celebrate the occasion his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Schneider, were hosts at a family picnic dinner Sunday, in the yard at their home on Huntington avenue.

Leonard received many gifts from the guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Abbramson and family of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Maunse of Southgate and L. A. Young.

Club Meets In Midway Home

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Marshall entertained members of the Tri-City Bridge club at their South Jackson street home Friday night.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Barker B. Brown, Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coule, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ockerman, Whittier.

Card Club Has Midway Meeting

MIDWAY CITY.—Mrs. Sidney Miller, Adams street, was a bridge hostess Friday night, entertaining Mrs. Robert Hazard, Mrs. J. A. Nelson, Mrs. Chester Campbell, Mrs. C. Ray Miller, Mrs. Ray R. Sues, Bruce Palmer and Mrs. Fred Foley.

High score prizes were won by Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Nelson.

LEAVE FOR HOME
YORBA LINDA.—Mrs. Helen Baker of Los Angeles and Mrs. Dell Welch of Monrovia left for their homes Thursday after spending a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Amstutz.

Church Society Meets at Y. L.

YORBA LINDA.—Members of the Missionary society of the Methodist church held their meeting Thursday in the social hall of the church.

A noon luncheon was served by Mrs. Edna Harwood Hersey, Mrs. Martha Spellman and Mrs. Ora Carpenter, hostesses for the day.

At the business meeting Mrs. A. C. Pickering, Mrs. Hersey and Mrs. Frank Day sr. were appointed to serve a covered dish luncheon at the next meeting to be held on June 24.

Mrs. M. E. Martin, president, led in circle prayer. Mrs. Pickering, in the stewardship chair, read a story entitled "A Soliloquy." Mrs. Day read a lesson on world citizenship. Sixteen members were present.

Orange Speed Drive Continues

ORANGE.—A drive by officers in Orange against excess speed on city streets continued unabated yesterday, with a number of speeders given citations to appear in the city court.

Arrested were Charles L. Robertson and Tolono Mariano, Torrance; Willard Belling, Van Nuys; Louis O. Fasnacht, Ted Cawles, Tom Smith and Andrew Cawles, Long Beach; Don Fitch, Santa Ana; Joseph Brewer, Orange, and Max E. Hartle, Los Angeles. All were traveling from 10 to 45 miles in 25-mile zones, police said.

The late Marcus Trent has left a million dollars to his nephew, Rodney Burton, provided he is unmarried when he reaches twenty-five. Otherwise, it goes to a society headed by J. Mitrospe, Pettifer, in accordance with Trent's wishes. Rodney, leading an isolated life in the mountains near Gunnison, Colorado, is not informed of the terms of the will. Pettifer hires Sari Saunders, night-club dancer, to go to Gunnison and maneuver Rodney into marriage before his twenty-fifth birthday. July 24th, a month away. The late Trent's lawyer offers Judy Collins $10,000 to go to Gunnison and thwart the scheme, and Judy's fiancé, Peter Dent, sends his sister Maureen, unknown to Judy, to see what she is up to. Sari makes no headway with the girl-shy Rodney, who is wholly absorbed in the study of Indian stone relics, or artifacts, until she overhears him with a gift of some perfect artifacts. When Judy casts doubt on the authenticity of these relics, Rodney furiously orders her out of his cabin.

CHAPTER XIX
JUDY went away from the cabin gritting her teeth in anger and apprehension. She had only made things worse by trying to cast doubt on the authenticity of the artifacts. She realized that Rodney had not resented her suggestion of Sari's duplicity half as much as the hint that he was not capable of discerning a false artifact from a true one.

And, she miserably supposed, it had been a silly thing to say. After all, Rodney was an authority on the subject. If he said the artifacts were genuine, there could be little doubt about it.

However, a small doubt did linger in Judy's mind. Sari's story about the old Indian chief didn't ring true, somehow, and her "discovery" of the artifacts was too much of a happy coincidence. Well, thought Judy, she would continue to keep a close watch on Sari. That was about all she could do for the present.

LATER in the day, she told Maureen about the scene with Rodney in his cabin.

"It's a shame!" Maureen declared furiously. "He's unable to protect himself from a girl like Sari. He's as helpless as a newborn babe!"

Judy studied her curiously, surprised by Maureen's vehemence. She began remembering little things she had scarcely noticed before. Was Maureen falling in love with the young scientist? It seemed preposterous—they had been together so little.

Yet, Judy recalled, with a tug at her heart, that she had fallen in love with Peter the first time she saw him. He had come into Judy's office with some papers. She would never forget the queer little tremor that had gone through her at his eyes met.

She tried not to think of Peter. She had written him three letters which he had not answered. She would never forgive herself if she had lost Peter by coming out here. But she had been so sure that she would find everything all right again.

She was still sure everything would be all right if she succeeded in earning the ten thousand. That tiny word was beginning to assume enormous proportions.

She said to Maureen, "You sound as though it really matters to you what happens to Rodney."

"A faint blush crept over Maureen's cheeks. She avoided Judy's gaze and answered evasively.

"It's simply that I'm ashamed of my sex when I see a designation like Rodney. It's sickening!"

"You needn't blush if you really feel as impersonal about it as you sound."

Whereupon Maureen's blush became much more pronounced. She drew in her breath, then looked into Judy's eyes.

"I won't deny that I—that I—"

Judy leaned forward and patted her hand.

"You don't have to say it. Rodney's a blind fool, of course. So many men are—where women are concerned."

Maureen's eyes were misty. "Do you think Sari will actually maneuver him into marrying her?"

"Not," Judy told her grimly. "If I can prevent it."

"But why are you so interested?"

"Never mind what part I play," Judy patted her hand again. "That would be telling secrets out of school. Besides, now that Rodney has ordered me away from the cabin, you'll have to take up the job of wooing him away from Sari."

"I don't quite know—," Maureen began.

"It's very simple," Judy told her. "An iota of interest in his silly old artifacts will do more toward winning him than anything else."

"Why—I don't think they're silly," Rodney, she would not like like Sari, have any motive to marry him before the 24th—it would be easy to delay the marriage until after Rodney had inherited his uncle's fortune.

HOWEVER, as the days passed, it became apparent that Maureen stood little chance of winning the scientist away from Sari. That kiss had been his undoing. Though he was still too busy with his artifacts to have much time for love-making, nevertheless he retained a tingling memory of that afternoon when he had held Sari in his arms and kissed her.

He was fully conscious of the deep impression she had made on him, and she lost no opportunity to improve on the advantage she had gained. Subtly but surely, she was drawing him into her trap.

Maureen could do no more than look on helplessly. For Rodney, he did not even attempt to escape the bonds Sari was forging for him. She was clever enough to be patient—not to bother him while he was working with his precious arrowheads—but she was always there in the background, ready to seize every chance to strengthen his growing infatuation for her.

Maureen did succeed in making friends with Rodney, and won from him a shy and surprised gratitude when he discovered that she, too, was deeply interested in his scientific researches, but that he was as far as the cold get with him. Their relationship became one of pleasant comradeship.

Then one day, the inevitable climax came. Judy and Maureen were seated in the lobby of the hotel when Sari, who had been out with Rodney all afternoon, breezed in. One look at her triumphant face, and both girls knew he was lost.

"Well," she announced, with ill-concealed glee, "it's all over but the shouting. Rodney crashed through with a proposal this afternoon. The wedding has been set for the 23rd. You're both invited."

Judy and Maureen stared at her in dead silence.

ORANGE BOY WINS STATE AWARD

ORANGE.—Paul Gollin won the Southern California championship in bookkeeping as he represented Orange High school in the commercial contest finals Saturday at Los Angeles, it was learned here today.

Three other students entered in the contest had the same degree of accuracy, 96 per cent, but young Gollin finished four minutes ahead of the others.

Virginia Wilber placed fourth in typing. Phyllis Kogler lacked one-tenth of 1 per cent of winning the typing championship, but due to the method of rating, failed to place. Another Orange student who competed was Evelyn Ellistie.

Loyola Band to Play at Brea

BREA.—The Loyola university band of more than 70 pieces will appear in a public concert June 4 in the Brea Municipal park, and will assist in organization of a Brea community band.

The reception committee for the visiting musicians will organize Tuesday noon at a luncheon at the New Sherman hotel.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING ALONG ORANGE COUNTY'S COASTLINE

ANNOUNCE FIRST PLANS FOR TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS

Newport Harbor Spectacle To Draw Many Civic Entries As Committee Adopts Plan To Permit Entries By Communities

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—This year's Tournament of Lights, huge harbor enterprise which annually draws at least 100,000 persons to the bay district, will have a "civic" division as part of the sparkling water parade, members of the tournament committee have announced.

This important section of the great illuminated spectacle will be under direction of Capt. William J. Brown, who will be assisted by Harry Welch, harbor chamber of commerce secretary. Approval of a schedule under which all entries will be listed has been received by the board of directors of the fete, Welch said today. The plan provides for eight sections and is divided into two classes. Entries of decorated and lighted boats will thus not compete with float entries.

City Entries Sought

Efforts now are being made to have more municipal entries on boats, but floats are available when requested, and competition between the two classes have been done away with, officials announced.

In groups for boats there will be sections for cities of 50,000 population and over; cities of 10,000 to 50,000 population; cities under 10,000 and sections for unincorporated communities and subdivisions of cities.

Awards Announced
The committee in charge is arranging for many beautiful trophies as awards in different sections. In addition to section awards, prizes will be given for volume of light, for beauty, elaborateness and for originality.

Letters to all Southern California cities inviting their participation in the spectacle are in the mail. No exact date yet has been set for the tournament, which usually is held about the middle of August.

TREMENDOUS TOE TALE! Feline's Feet Feat Is Feted

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Known as a "frog," Tony, son number one, has seven toes on each front foot and six toes on each hind foot, and instead of the usual one large and two small frogs per foot, has a frog to match each toe. Tony is a frog to the local Trailer Park.

Chappie, herself, has two feet on each front leg, and a total of 26 toes. Of the two feet on each foreleg, one is normal in size and formation, and the other is small with an extra central padding,

Yacht Endeavour I Contacted by Argo

ABOARD COASTGUARD CUTTER ARGO. (P)—The Coastguard Cutter Argo contacted the British Yacht Endeavour I today, five miles southwest of No Man's land. No Man's land is a small island south of Martha's Vineyard, Mass. Endeavour I lost her tow line from the Viva in a gale 1000 miles off Newport a week ago Friday. Coastguard officers said she probably would not reach Newport until late afternoon.

Sounds Screechy to Rubinoff

Rubinoff doesn't like it much. Virginia Verrill, he says, does a better job of singing on his programs—heard from KVOE—than she does on the Stradivarius. Miss Verrill is a guest star on tonight's Rubinoff at 8:45.

Choice Of Fish Given Anglers At Newport

MOVE BARGE TO HUNTINGTON

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Old-time anglers for a 40-mile radius are metaphorically rubbing their hands and actually rounding up their favorite tackle as the news spread that Capt. Clarence Morrison is going to anchor his barge over Halibut Flat just off the shore here some time next week.

PHILLIPS WILL BE L. B. SPEAKER

LAGUNA BEACH.—Fred J. Phillips, education director of the investor's syndicate, will be the principal speaker at the chamber of commerce luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at the Hotel Laguna. His subject will be "Money Management."

Canada Markets Observe Holiday

TORONTO. (P)—All Canadian financial markets were closed today, Victoria day. Montreal commodity exchange and the Winnipeg grain market also were closed.

MAN, 73, REMARRIES NO. 1
Divorced from his first wife at 69, married to another woman at 70, divorced again at 71, and remarried to his first wife at 73. Such is the marriage cycle just concluded in the register office at Perth, France, when a seventy-three-year-old business man and his seventy-year-old ex-wife were united. His first marriage lasted 34 years. He expects this one to last the rest of his life.

AWARD DAM JOB
WASHINGTON. (P)—The triangle Rock and Gravel Company and Charles Holmes of San Bernardino, Calif., on a joint bid of $108,400, have received a reclamation bureau contract for preparation of concrete aggregate to be used in manufacture of concrete for Imperial dam in Southern California.

ADVANCES IN GOLF
SANDWICH, Eng. (P)—John O. Levinson, Chicago, former Yale player and current New England titleholder, won his first round match in the British amateur golf championship today, defeating W. A. Stevenson of the Army golfing society, 4 and 3.

Honey Market

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Honey offerings by beekeepers were generally moderate with trading rather light during the past week. Market prices held nominally steady, but the undertone was weaker in anticipation of the current heavy crop.

Prices to beekeepers, ton lots or more, per pound, f. o. b. Southern California warehouses and docks (cold crop):
Beeswax 23½-25.
Clover-alalfa, intermountain—extra white to water white 5½-7½; white 5½-5.8.
New crop—few sales to establish market.

Mouse Uses Bills And Stamps To Make Her Nest

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (P)—Postal inspectors got headaches when stamps and currency began disappearing from a drawer in the post office.

The loss ran to $2 in stamps and four $5 bills, then fragments of stamps in the drawer put them on the trail.

They found a hole in the corner of the drawer and beneath was Mrs. Mouse and her family, snugly nestled in a nest of four $5 bills.

Aged Huntington Woman Is Taken

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Mrs. Mary Sandercock, 86, died yesterday morning from an attack that she suffered a week ago. Alarmed at the sight of smoke issuing from the window of Mrs. Sandercock's home, Fred Candee, a neighbor, had broken in and found her helpless on her bed as a cloth was burning on the stove. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at the Christian church.

KAYAK EVENT PLANS MADE AT HARBOR

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—A schedule for the annual Newport Harbor Kayak championships, which will be held in the bay here June 13, has been approved by the committee in charge, it was learned today.

Twelve major events will feature the program, it was announced, and many entries from 140 pounds; novice race for boys who have never won kayak prizes; 600 meters for boys under 140 pounds and the same distance for boys weighing more than 140; a novice 600-meter race will be followed by 400 and 600-meter races for girls.

Included in the program will be a 400-meter race for boys under 140 pounds and under 21 years; 400 meters for boys more than 140 pounds; novice race for boys who have never won kayak prizes; 600 meters for boys under 140 pounds and the same distance for boys weighing more than 140; a novice 600-meter race will be followed by 400 and 600-meter races for girls.

GUEST HONORED AT ALAMITOS

ALAMITOS.—Mrs. Grace Mitchell and her daughters, Virginia and Betty, planned a layette shower in honor of Mrs. Fern Morgan in the home of Mrs. Mitchell in connection with the meeting of the Missionary society of the Friends church at their home Thursday afternoon.

Shower gifts for the honor guest, former resident of the community, were presented following the missionary meeting at which Mrs. Margaret Miller presided. Mrs. Nellie Amos reviewed the Advocate. Mrs. Lavina Rice spoke on "Our Missionaries" and Mrs. Alma Niles discussed the life of "Sarah." Business included naming of delegates to the yearly meeting at Whittier starting June 15 with Mrs. May Scott and Mrs. Estella Jones being elected delegates and Mrs. Lavina Rice and Mrs. Margaret Miller as alternate delegates.

Guests included Mrs. Lena Robertson, Mrs. A. Dickerson, Mrs. Ella Fay, Mrs. Marjorie Fortune, Miss Edith Nichols and Miss Pearl Morgan. Members present were Mesdames Cora Hansler, Estella Jones, Margaret Miller, Carrie Moore, May Scott, Elsie Broady, Jessie Nichols, Rosa Newsom, Tennessee Pritchard, Alma Nida, Lena Mosher, Nellie Amos, Alice Robertson, Ethel Newsom, Nellie Benson, Persis Branson, Sarah West, Lavina Rice and Lizzie Morgan.

SEAGULLS REPAIRED

On a cliff at Cornwall, England, a bird's hospital has been established to repair the injury done to seagulls by passing ships. The founder is Miss Phyllis Yglesias, of Mousehole, that famous fishing village near Penzance. In spite of protests ships continue to discharge oil and seagulls are clogged by it. Their wings cannot lift them and they perish miserably. Fishermen and children take the injured birds to the hospital.

COLLAR BUTTON HONORED

On his eighty-fifth birthday, Frederick Traub of Vienna, Austria, honored a collar button, whose disappearance in 1911, saved his life. Just as the first act of a play was starting in a Vienna theater, Traub discovered that his collar button was missing, and he went to the dressing room to find it. While he was out the curtain caught fire, panic followed, and 500 people perished.

L. B. ACTRESS ON TRIP

LAGUNA BEACH.—Barbara Reed, 19-year-old Laguna motion picture actress, left for Mexico yesterday by plane. She will enjoy herself on a long awaited vacation from studio work, since during the past few months she has been making several pictures, among them Eric Maria Remarque's "The Road Back."

She also will be convalescing from after-effects of her recent auto accident in Hollywood, when she suffered severe bruises.

Beach Woman Fractures Wrist

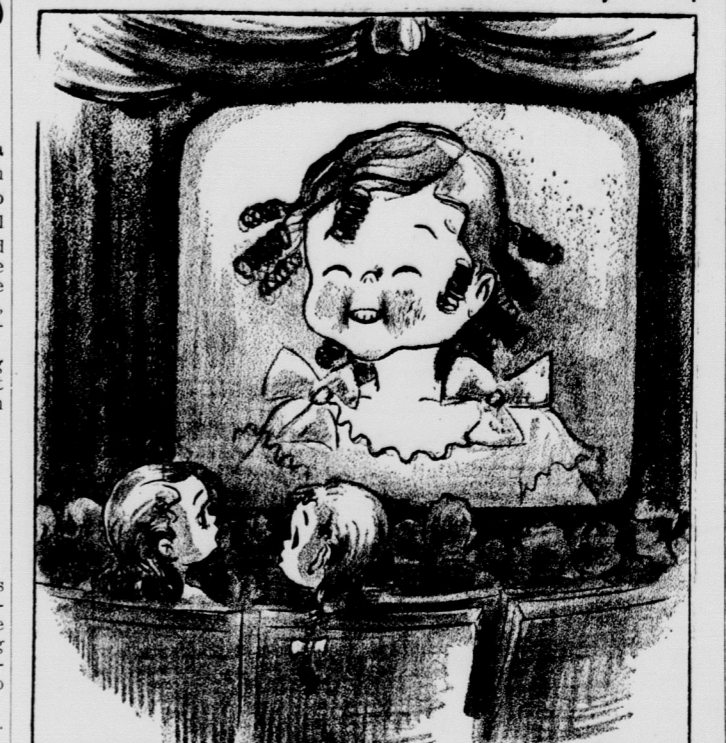

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—As she crossed the street this morning en route to work, Mrs. Grace Brose dodged a truck coming swiftly toward her and fell, fracturing her right wrist in two places.

Drs. L. F. Whittaker and B. W. Hardy set her wrist.

GROWING PAINS

By Phillips

"They say she gets twenty-five cents a week to spend and goes through it, just like that!"

BOWELERS AT LAGUNA WIN AWARD

LAGUNA BEACH.—The Lawn Bowling club maintained its position in the limelight of bowling recently, when its triple team, consisting of M. G. Minter, J. B. Andrews and Judge Gavy Cravath, won the championship of the Southern California Lawn Bowling association at Exposition park, Los Angeles.

As a member of a team which has won over the outstanding lawn bowling clubs of the country, Minter now holds a second championship, since two years ago he won the international midwinter open tournament, playing with W. H. Saunders and Mayor L. F. Mallow.

Lawn bowling, long the popular sport of kings and commons in England, is fast becoming popular in the United States, and especially in Laguna Beach.

Eight hundred uniformed policemen in England are to teach road behaviour.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK. (P)—After declining in most sectors, the stock market came to rest on dead center today, but buying picked up a little toward the close.

Isolated specialties were resistant, but other groups were spinless at limited losses after a brief early rally which failed to carry through.

The stock ticker stopped frequently during the afternoon. The President's wage and hour message has been discounted, most agreed. Some suggested the supreme court's upholding of social security legislation might help bonds, but said it had no effect on shares. Prices follow:

Crochet of Priceless Distinction

PATTERN 5862

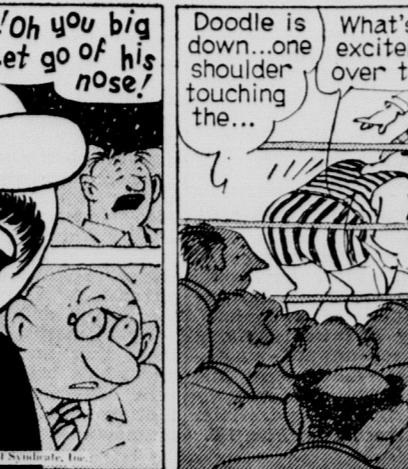

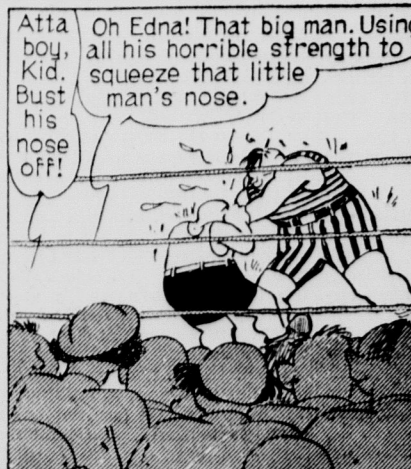

Crochet of priceless distinction, yet humble cost, may now be yours in this crocheted bedspread, made of string. Though rich in design, the single 6 1/2-inch squares, crocheted one at a time, are the simplest ever to do, and your puffy flowers of popcorn stitch (an old favorite) "stand out" beautifully against a lacy background. In pattern 5862 you will find complete instructions for making the medallion shown; an illustration of it and of all stitches used; material requirements; a photograph of the actual square.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

She Deserves a Medal

THERE ought to be a special medal for courage and service struck off for Joyce McAllister, 27-year-old California girl, who single-handedly uncovered that dope peddling ring in Reno.

Miss McAllister isn't a paid detective. She is just a full-hearted, high-minded girl who accidentally learned that a vicious circle of criminals was making the Nevada city headquarters for the narcotics racket.

Her information wasn't enough to bring the guilty rats into court, so Miss McAllister set out to get airtight evidence.

She served a three-month term in jail in order to win the confidence of Reno's underworld and then she made incriminating purchases of morphine.

All the while, the plucky girl risked her life; because if you have ever witnessed the twisted workings of a dope addict's perverted mind and seen the evil greed with which narcotic peddlers milk their pitiful prey, you know that human life counts for little when a cargo or shot of dope is at stake. If she had been found out, she might have suffered a horrible death of revenge.

Thanks to Miss McAllister, the Reno dope ring—which perhaps plunged scores of men and women into degradation or death—has been broken.

That action is as brave as any we have ever read in history.

It was a self-assumed task—done purely out of love for her fellowmen and women and hatred for the vile dope traffic.

Miss McAllister already has the respect and thanks of the whole United States. She should have official recognition, from the government, too, for her courageous and voluntary service against crime.

Justice Van Devanter quit because he was allegedly too old, being 78 years, and now President Roosevelt appoints 78-year-old R. W. Moore in the special post of counselor of the department of state. Explain that one.

Underground Subway School Crossings

UNDERGROUND subways at all school crossings in Santa Ana. More water conservation and reforestation for Orange county.

We add these fine suggestions from a reader, Dr. H. J. Howard, to the incomplete vision of the future greatness for Santa Ana and Orange county as set forth Friday in this column.

Speaking of the underground subways, Dr. Howard writes: "One life is worth all it would cost."

In Friday's paper we listed 12 concrete objectives to be achieved in building a greater city and county. They are:

- New buildings and an adequate campus for Santa Ana junior college.
- Enlarging of the channel and full development of Newport harbor.
- A two-way coast highway with a safety island down the center, lighted by fog lamps.
- The creation of a modern county civic center somewhere between Santa Ana and Orange.
- More and adequate parks for Santa Ana, especially in the south section.
- A large and modern tourist type hotel in Santa Ana.
- Rapid transportation to and from Los Angeles.
- A complete flood control and water conservation program.
- Better traffic regulations and enforcement.
- Improvement of downtown parking facilities.
- Development of a mountain highway across Saddleback.
- More homes and apartment houses.

Read that list and see if you can't add something to it, however visionary, of possibly even greater positive value to our section of the Southland.

Send it in as your "bit of vision," indicating whether you wish your name published or not.

Taming the North Pole

WITH commercial air conquest of the Pacific complete—thanks to Glenn Martin's giant Clipper ships—and a route over the Atlantic scheduled to start next year, the newest aviation venture marks another high level in courage and progress.

Eleven Soviet airmen have seized the North pole for a permanent air base for a Russia-to-America sky route.

Soon an Arctic city will arise—with homes and hangars—on the spot that has captivated the imagination of man for centuries despite barriers of snow and ice.

Perhaps within a few years some of you who are reading this editorial will land at the North Pole for a cup of coffee on your way to Europe.

Two Mighty Monuments

JOHN DAVISON ROCKEFELLER, founder of the greatest oil empire in the world, has passed on at the age of 97. He leaves behind two vast achievements.

One is the mighty oil organization which spans the entire world, aiding progress and comfort through more and cheaper light, heat and power.

The other is the famous Rockefeller Foundation with its millions of dollars for scientific and medical research to help mankind. In all, Mr. Rockefeller gave away $530,000,000 for charitable purposes.

Both are monuments which may serve the world for years to come.

Diary: Up, feeling sloppy, but cheered by hails from Jacob Ruppert, Sheila Barrett, Alice Brady and the lovable, rowdy Ted Healy. Also a long letter from Tom Geraghty telling the news of a London cock-a-hoop with a lilled phrases about the charm of some ancient streets. And the coronation.

So with my lady to Glenhead to the wedding reception for the T. Dennis Boardmans. And back to The City to meet J. Bryan Hill, who has been assigned to write a piece about me for the Saturday Evening Post. Then talking to V. V. McNitt about syndicate matters and such.

Dined at a Schrafft's and so intrigued by a mustache fixer with a hand mirror at the next table ate only a few dabs. Afterward across 42nd street and saw the darkened burlesque houses, and stopped in to hear a bare-chested Sampson in a leopard's skin lecture on the marvels of his cure-all.

From the harmonica king, Larry Adler, in Oxford, England: "I notice in your column you would like to play the harmonica as I do. The co-incidence is spooky. My life ambition is to be a columnist such as you. Just last week I said that very thing to a young Christian, young editor of the London Daily Express, who lets me write a column for him now and then. If you are wondering how I come to read your column here in Oxford, let me tell you my girl friend sends me your entire output, including the Cosmopolitan. Anyway, I'll send you one of my mouth organs and all instructions, if you'll give me a leg up on columning. I'll guarantee to have you tooting 'Blue Danube' in nothing flat. But why should you, Bud, such an exchange? Anybody—'an urchin in the street—can play a mouth organ.' (Ed. note: But not like a Larry Adler, and there are not a half dozen readable columnists.)

And last of the roaming violinists who wander from table to table in cafes seems to be Joe Fejer—pronounced Fayre—who is still strolling. He has roamed from old Delmonico's one the avenue to a Hungarian goulasherie on Second avenue. A smiling, unctuous troubador, he knows a thousand and one arias and likes to stand before you, swaying, dreamy-eyed and playing on and on.

That testimonial dinner to Broadway's "grandest guy," Gene Buck, was a rousing bravura. As the cowhand says on the Texas pampas they "poured it on him" and deservedly. With the exception of former President Hoover's well balanced restraint and Bud Kelland's deep-seated satire—the razor sort that would cut floating silk—the complimentary glow of a score of celebrities had almost engulfed the genial Gene in a purple of bathos. The former secretary of President Wilson, had presided and did not spare the sugar. So little did he refrain from an extravagance of acclaim that as the guests left Grandlund Rice, a bit groggy, whispered to Arthur McCoagh: "Well the shouting and tumult dies!"

Coronation crowds are coming back humming "Let's Have a Tiddley at the Milk Bar." One hears it everywhere in England—the radio and among the whistling errand boys and cabaret crooners. London, it seems, has all of a sudden taken up milk just as the orange drink stands niched in every available building crevice in New York. Incidentally, a new American restaurant has sprung up in London next door to the old Palladium and is called "Ye Old Doughnut Dunkery."

Jigsaw genesis: Harry Lander postcards that the jigsaw puzzle was invented by a Scot butcher who inadvertently dropped a pound note in his mincing machine.

Bagatelles: Clare Diggins, the cartoonist, is gypsying from the Golden Gate to Maine in an old trailer. Michael Arlen has fallen for the monochrome. Hollywood's Dutch Treat club is called the Scotch Treat. Alfred Lunt has a green and yellow striped shirt with collar to match that Lynn Fontanne will not let him wear.

From an editorial: "No one remembers exactly when the first big swing from right to left took place." So far as I'm concerned it was when Mrs. Leslie Carter hung to that bell clapper in "Heart of Maryland."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — Behind the resignation of Justice Willis Van Devanter there were months of delicate undercover negotiations and a sharp tug of war.

From the moment the President launched his judicial reorganization plan, certain critical circles of the court were under observation. Friends of the President on the Supreme Court were feeling out their friends on the Supreme Court regarding the possibility of retirements. They felt that the voluntary withdrawal of two or three conservative justices would cut the ground from under Roosevelt's "wash up" his bill.

Foremost in these behind-the-scenes maneuvers was Representative Hutton Summers of Texas, veteran chairman of the house judiciary committee and author of the recently enacted law permitting justices to retire on full pay. Of the five justices 75 years old or over—Brandeis, Van Devanter, Sutherland, McReynolds and Hughes—Van Devanter was the only one to indicate any open-mindedness toward retirement. Brandeis and Sutherland may clear they would not quit while the court was under fire. Hughes and McReynolds let it be known they had no thought of resigning then or later.

Van Devanter expressed keen interest in Summers' retirement measure. He explained that for several years he had been considering leaving the bench, but had not felt financially able to do so. Retirement on full pay might change the picture.

The Summers act became law March 1, and from then on Van Devanter was under quiet but persistent pressure to announce his resignation at once.

TUG OF WAR. At first the generalissimo directing the fight against the President's bill were strong for the idea of supreme court retirements.

But as they gained strength they changed their minds. And in recent weeks some of them vigorously opposed such a step. They contended that they had the President licked, and the thing to do was to beat him squarely on the issue he had raised.

However, Summers and several other close friends of Van Devanter persisted—and won out. When Van Devanter finally informed Chief Justice Hughes of his decision to resign, several of the anti-administration leaders also got wind of it. Whereupon ensued a terrific sub rosa drive to persuade Van Devanter to stay put.

His colleagues on the bench, led by Hughes, and the oppositionists in the senate pleaded with him not to quit until the President's bill had been disposed of. Van Devanter stood by his guns, but he made one concession to Hughes.

His original intention was to resign at the conclusion of the court's decision day, May 17. He had completed his work, had no other decisions to prepare and was ready to withdraw. But Hughes urged him to remain on the bench until the expiration of the court's current term.

Van Devanter agreed, and dated his retirement as of June 2.

Note—Hughes' anxiety to keep Van Devanter on the bench until final adjournment arose out of his desire to have a full court recorded as acting on the social security law.

NEW LEADER

Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky will succeed Senator Joe Robinson as administration floor leader if the President names Robinson to the supreme court.

Barth Harrison, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee, ranks Barkley in seniority. Senator Jimmy Byrnes, able, popular South Carolinian, is junior to Barkley but has the strong backing of the Old Guard Democrats. But neither of these will get the floor leadership.

Harrison doesn't want it and the White House doesn't want Byrnes. Barkley is no left-winger, but he has supported the President and his policies 100 per cent. In addition, he has acted as floor leader during Robinson's absence, and is one of the best parliamentarians in the senate.

Besides supporting the New Deal wholeheartedly, Barkley also won warm administration appreciation for his vigorous handling of the late Huey P. Long when the Louisiana dictator was rocking the senate with his razor-tongued harangues. Barkley was the only administration leader who would stand toe-to-toe with the Kingfish and slug it out with him.

Not only that, but the Kentucky would bait Huey to the floor with a barrage of rhetorical rights and lefts.

REVERSE ENGLISH

John Carson, astute secretary of the late Senator Couzens, has spent a good part of his life baiting big business. He was the brains of many of Couzens' attacks against Andy Mellon, the big steel companies, other economic royalists.

Supposedly consistent with this, Carson is now consumers' counsel on the National Bituminous Coal Commission, entrusted with the job of protecting the consumers of bituminous coal. To this end, he has called a hearing on the price of coal.

The meeting is set for June 5, and the other day Carson looked over the list of the coal consumers he is to defend.

At the top of the list stood the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, Republic Steel, Inland Steel, and several companies owned by Andy Mellon. Altogether, the list comprised 75 per cent of the bituminous coal consumers.

And Carson, for the first time in his life, will have to defend their interests.

Bright Moments

Giovanni Maria Mastai-Ferretti, who was bishop of Imola, was known as a very charming and gracious man, with a very broad view of life and humanity. Just before he was elected a cardinal, Pope Gregory XVI was speaking of his tendency toward innovations in almost all matters, and said: "In Mastai's house even the cat is liberal." A few years later Mastai was named Pope Pius IX.

Readers are invited to contribute Mailbag letters on topics of general interest. Rules: (1) letters must not exceed about 200 words—longer ones will be edited; (2) writers must sign names and addresses—unassigned letters will be ignored; initials only or pen names will be used when requested; (3) confine each letter to ONE idea; you have two ideas, write two letters; (4) letters must wait turn for publication; (5) discussion of matters in the news, and therefore known to all readers, are preferred. Please cooperate by observing these rules. Thanks.—Editor.

C. I. O. VS. A. F. L.

To the Editor: There is at the present time an intense interest in the subject of labor unions in this community as in other parts of America, and there are many who are anxious to join a union of some kind. But the conflicting claims and stories presented on behalf of the A. F. of L. (American Federation of Labor) and the C. I. O. (Committee of Industrial Organization), respectively, have placed many a would-be union member in a quandary as to which group to join.

So, being desirous of aiding in clearing up the situation, I wish to propose a debate on the following resolution: "Resolved, That the C. I. O. (industrial form of organization) is more beneficial to the worker than the A. F. of L. (craft form)." I shall be pleased to take the affirmative side of the question if some one will take the negative.

Time and place of meeting can be arranged through correspondence or personal contact.

Thanking you for the space and the courtesy of publication,

R. J. LEWIS,
621 N. Shelton St., Santa Ana.

DEFENDS MEAT PLANT

To the Editor: The following petition was presented to the honorable board of supervisors May 14, signed by 95 citizens from Garden Grove to Smelter road and from Silver Acres into the city of Santa Ana:

"We, the undersigned, understand that an establishment to be used as a slaughter house for the purpose of slaughtering animals is being contemplated near First street and Harbor boulevard, west of Santa Ana in Orange county, and that a permit is requested for the same.

"We believe this would be a public nuisance and would cause a very unhealthful condition in the entire community as well as depressing real estate value and making the entire district an unpleasant place in which to live.

"We, residents and taxpayers of Orange county, are definitely opposed to the issuing of this or any other permit for the purpose of a slaughter house in the vicinity of the above mentioned vicinity and hereby respectfully request that your body, the honorable board of supervisors, use your power to prevent this undesirable condition."

Now to make it easier for the board of supervisors, I place my side before the people of Orange county.

It seems that the name and what it used to stand for is what people have against this business. Mine is to be a stucco building, 34 by 100 feet. The back of the building the place where I and the men prepare the raw material into good, fresh wholesome food.

From here it rolls into an $8000 cooler where it is cooled properly and goes direct to the consumer. Common sense will tell you people of West First street and Harbor that you have nothing to fear in the line of bad odor or flies. These conditions do not exist in the present old and obsolete plant, so why should they at the new?

I would greatly appreciate a reply to this statement in any Orange county paper.

Signed by the owner of the Talbert Meat company,

J. F. BETSCHART,
Rt. 3 Box 378, Santa Ana.

One Man's Opinion

By X REPORTER

I yield to no man—as the politicians would phrase it—in granting the full courtesies of the occasion to any human being who may politely address me, either orally or in written form.

If any there be who hold it a loss of time to converse or correspond with strangers, then accord to such a ledger I am heavily on the debit side—and will never be able to set my accounts square.

For many years the mailman has brought me great gobs of mail from persons unknown to me and from points sprinkled widely all over the earth's surface.

The honest letters requiring an answer almost always get one. Many letters require no answer. They merely record a fact or express an opinion, and the writers thereof neither expect nor want an answer. They have expressed themselves, and that is enough.

By "honest" letters I mean those that mean what they say and which bear an honest signature. Sarcastic letters or those that are written in a spirit of pure meanness only hesitate a moment on their way to my deep-and-wide wastebasket.

Anonymous letters go the same route—only quicker. Years of habit have caused me to gauge the incoming mail backwards. I turn first to the place where the signature should be. If it is obviously a fake signature, or if signature is lacking, not even the first line of the letter gets read.

That is just my own little way of getting even with the writers of anonymous letters. Not even their first line gets across. The janitor, I am sure, hasn't time to do more than chuck them in the furnace.

If a citizen dressed in a bed sheet and a mask approached me on the street and tried to make conversation I'd either run or sock him. He's just not being himself, and neither will I under such circumstances.

The letter writer who hides behind the mask and cloak of anonymity holds exactly the same rating as the masked individual in my scheme of things. I don't like him at all.

George Newman fears the younger generation won't get the essence of the Santa Ana ordinance of some fifty years ago which prohibited bicycles from preceding fire apparatus on call. In those days, says George, it was a volunteer and embryonic department, and the bicycle was the popular mode of transportation. May you can get a better picture of the advisability of such a law 50 years ago when you make a comparison with what a bicycle rider can do to you today while you are driving your automobile. You can tell what he is going to do and those volunteer bicyclists didn't want any competition in their day. Time and developments obsolete many laws, once good, now out-of-date. That's why city councils repeal antiquated ordinances. The bicycle was all right when the city fathers didn't want it to beat the department to the fire, or delay the motion.

It could have been Pete Beissel who sent me an anonymous postal card from Texas, and then again it could have been some one else. Pete comes under suspicion as he is in the Lone Star State.

And it remained for the mild-mannered A. L. West from Paducah, Kentucky, to suggest that if I would wear my pedometer on the road, I might know if in the proximity of my watch pocket that it shouldn't worry me—much. That I wouldn't know whether I was going or coming or standing still. I accepted that statement as a legal opinion, and not a personal insinuation.

If the "home-town-boys" spoke as plain as Pegler does now and Harry Carr used to, the "Mail-Bag" would probably buzz with complaints.

Our fellow townsman, J. P. Baumgartner, has gone to the Mayo's to get them to tell him what's the matter with him, as he doesn't know. That's a good rule to follow, no matter whether in health or business. When you do not know the way to go now, go to some one who does know.

When your car stops and you only know enough to lift the hood, that's another good time to send for a mechanic, who should know the things you do not. It's a good way to get the car started again.

And then the editor thought I put on a record which continued to repeat itself last Friday, and then I decided not to do it again.

And when I converse with Valencia orange ranchers who have been ranchers for many years and inquire as to their attitude toward the industry, especially as to what they want to sell the property, I have yet to find the first one who does, or if even inclined the price per acre compares quite favorably with those of pre depression days. There is a satisfaction both with the property and the industry which reveals nothing panicky, but on the other hand a contentment and faith surprisingly gratifying. A tourist inspecting groves with a serious intention of investment discovered that the ones he would like to own were the ones not for sale. If you have been blue about your Valencia orange grove this reliable information may help push away the smudge of pessimism.

If there was some way to store up the heat of summer and release it during the cold of winter, C. C. Teague's offer of $5000 to solve the heating problem would be accomplished. And $5000 isn't to be sneezed into atmosphere.

EVEN AS YOU AND I. John D. Rockefeller, one of the great characters in the industrial and financial life of America, closes the book on a long, useful and active career. I prefer to contemplate his life from the standpoint of a great philanthropist rather than from the thin dime observatory. I rather look back over his journey from the time he was a barefoot boy, because it tells the story of energy and hardships. I haven't any quarrel with a man if he succeeds. I am glad that out of his great earnings he did turn back a part of it to human welfare. Many rich men do so. Many do not. All the more credit to those who feel the urge to set aside a part of their profits to science and research and spiritual comfort. Rockefeller made money. He gave a lot of it away. After all we are only custodians of accumulated wealth. The earthly judgment now goes to the Heavenly Court of Appeal.

The janitor, I am sure, hasn't time to do more than chuck them in the furnace.
